

Mouth Washed Out With Soap

(By: Janus)

Hello Folks,

My wife who is also my Domme has started to include washing my mouth out with soap as a training/discipline method.

Last night she made me stand in the corner with a bar of Ivory Soap in my mouth for seven minutes. She is starting slow but wants it to become more and more severe each time she does it. She made the bar sort of soft by soaking it in warm water for a while before she inserted it in my mouth and made me hold it between my teeth. It was unpleasant but not that bad. She only had about an inch and a half in my mouth. Next time she has told me already she will insert it deeper.

I told her I would try to get some information from this newsgroup on the subject. The kind of information I am looking for is methods of mouth washing as well as what kinds of soaps work better than others and any that should be avoided. She has told me she wants to read the responses. We would also be interested in hearing about anyone's actual experience giving or receiving a good mouth soaping.

Let me thank you in advance as well as say if there is any interest I will post reports. You may e-mail me if you wish (Remove Spam Filter), but please post also. Thanks.

enjoy
Janus