

Soaping Reply

(By soapysnsth)

The other day I showed my girlfriend some of the soaping stories posted here. She liked the one that was actually an advice column piece to Aunt Keri (at the whapmag.com site)

She wrote me a fantasy reply as the girlfriend of the advice seeker in Aunt Keri's article thanking her for the instructions Aunt Keri gave to her...

I'll repost the Aunt Keri piece followed by what my girlfriend wrote

Dear Aunt Keri:

The woman I'm seeing has threatened to was my mouth out with soap. I said that if she does she must pick a very mild soap. She says she'll get any soap that she thinks is appropriate. Finally she said she'd leave it up to you, and that the punishment is to commence the Friday after you answer with your insights.

She'd like to know:

- 1) what soap to use?
- 2) the duration of punishment?
- and 3) your favorite way of carrying out said punishment?

She will strictly follow your advice, and she hopes you will be specific. I hope that you take your time or not answer this question, but she's standing over my shoulder now.

Thanks,
John

Dear John:

Of course, I'll answer! We're you hoping that I wouldn't so that you could avoid being punished? No such luck, Johnny. You've got an appointment at the bathroom sink.

For a mild act of verbal insolence, my personal choice of soap would be a well-lathered bar of a sweet, feminine soap such as Camay or Dove. (I realize that there are now many sweet, mild, feminine soaps on the market but Camay and Dove remain my favorites for nostalgic reasons).

The lathered bar should be rubbed across your lips and then your tongue for about thirty to sixty seconds. For more serious infractions, I would choose Ivory soap (my charges tell me that it is the most bitter of the bar soaps), applied in the same manner, with your head held over the sink so that you can drool and spit the suds down the drain. It is essential that you be scolded and perhaps smacked on your bottom as you are given your mouth soaping, for the punishment to be fully effective.

Mouthsoaping is most often thought of as a punitive measure, but it should also be employed (forcibly or not) as a hygienic measure, before a man gives oral servitude to his lady. No woman should allow her lover boy to assume his submissive servitudinal position until his mouth and tongue have been scrubbed with a soapy washcloth and rinsed thoroughly with warm water.

There you have it! Now enough with your nonsense and dilly-dallying! You are to give this e-mail to your lady friend at once and open wide.

Sincerely,
Ms. Pentauk

Soapy's girlfriend's response:

Dear Aunt Keri

I received your instructions from John and I want to thank you for all your advice. All your advice was taken to heart. As I read your instructions I found myself agreeing with all the things you suggested. John continuing to use those 4 letter words really got to me. I told him he had one more time and I would implement your instructions.

Needless to say, he pushed my buttons one time to many!

So were talking on the phone, and what pops out of his mouth? He tells me "you need to have your ASS at home" I thought about what he had said and I told him who was he talking to? He said me.

Before I knew it, I was in my car and on my way to his place. On the way I stopped by the 7-11 and picked up a fresh bar of Dial.

I put key in the door and as usual he was not expecting me because I had hung up on him. He was in the den watching TV when I arrived. I grabbed him by the ear which surprised the hell out of him. As we made our way up the stairs John knew what was coming. He quickly began to apologize for his behavior. I heard what he was saying but I paid him no mind.

As we approached the bathroom, I told him that he knows "how I hate to hear those words from this mouth". As we entered the bathroom I could see his erection beginning, just knowing what was about to come.

I grabbed his hair and pulled it back as we both looked to the mirror. I began the verbal punishment. "Why do I have be subjected to his foul mouth? When will he learn to respect a lady?"

I then took the soap and began to lather it up in my hands and made him begin by licking the soap off my hands. He did it with a bit of reluctance but nevertheless he continued.

I then took the bar of soap and put it in his mouth. Washing his tongue as he stuck it out was the pleasure for me. I made him hold it out and I washed it over and over again. Then the soap was used as toothpaste and he was required to brush his teeth with it as well. He was now gagging. I then instructed him to take a small bite of the soap and begin to chew the soap. He did but one could tell his discomfort. Chewing continuously, he was seeking comfort. I made him hold it within his jaws, knowing full well that the discomfort would be unbearable for some time. Then he was made to swallow. As he did, he gagged more, but never once allowing the contents of his mouth to come up.

The damage had been done! I think he learned 1st hand what I would and wouldn't tolerate. He knew that if I had to make a return trip it would not be nice. I noticed his penis was nice and erect. I looked at him and told him that he would not be having sex tonight, so he would have to please himself.

I left him there in the mirror, nice and erect! Wonder what he did?

Well thanks again Aunt Keri for your help

She's a kewl lady huh? Hope you enjoyed :-p
