

The Bath

(By: Jack Sprat)

There is nothing more enjoyable than lovers giving or receiving a bath. Not a regular bath. A soapy sponge bath. This long, slow, delightful process requires a stage be set. I have a massage table. I spread it with a terry cloth towel with soft colors. A fluffy down pillow is used as a head rest. Having a small workshop, I designed a double ring stand wash table like they use in hospitals. This sits alongside the massage table. The ring stand contains two large stainless steel basins.

Since I want this to be a very relaxing experience, I first give my lover a long massage. I further set the stage. A new bar of Camay soap, towels, and soft bath brushes are set alongside the ring stand. Quiet music is playing on the hi-fi. Candles are lit, offering a resting flickering glow. Other lights are extinguished.

I'm naked. My lover enters, also without clothes, and very relaxed after his massage. We embrace and kiss. He sits on the table. I help lift his legs to where he is lying prone. He draws up his legs, spreading them wide. He is erect and waiting with anticipation.

I dip my hands in a basin, wetting them and warming them. They move about the bar of Camay soap lathering well. I reach to his crotch and apply thick warm suds, lathering his entire pubic area. My hand moves to along his inner thighs, washing them, then drying well with a toweled hand.

I reach to the base of his hard penis. My fingernails gently dig in and work the surrounding pubic hair. It is rinsed and combed. I raise his ball sac and wash underneath, letting water trickle erotically down over his anal sphincter. I run his balls through my very soapy hands, washing, kneading and feeling them slide around.

Using a small soaped sponge, I slowly stroke his penis. I gently pass it over his tip. I make soft up and down strokes along its backside. A Q-Tip is soaped and run underneath his penis rim, making sure all areas are reached and cleansed. It is softly pressed against his flared pee hole, gently rotated, but not inserted. A warm rinse and a vigorous drying follow.

My lover turns to his stomach. He rises while I slip a large round bolster under him. His legs are spread making his ass is fully accessible. My warm soapy hands caress those lovely buns, firm, well-formed and smooth, with little hair. I make finger swirls over each cheek and soft passes just inside his crack, I knead each cheek, making them very soapy. I rinse my hands and re-soap them well. They reach deeply in his crack, washing his smooth inner cheeks and over the top of his erect cock.

A medium bristled brush is soaped for a few minutes. The brush is erotic and invigorating as it scrubs the inner buns. My soapy index finger slides inside his ass, massaging and cleansing his tight passage. I pull his cock downwards and back, bringing his balls in perfectly outline against his pouch. I soap a very soft brush and scrub each until they shine. His penis tip, now pointing backwards, is washed a second time with a small sponge. I gently dry his tip by rubbing softly and blotting. His crack is dried vigorously by a deep delving towel.

My lover is shiny clean. My tongue slides in his anal crack. I lick like what seems for hours. I pull his prick back. My mouth moves to it while my finger probes. I am rewarded with my lovers soapy juices as he comes and comes.

It is now time for my lover to sleep.
