

Established in 1992 to provide specialized communications support to enterprise firms, KGM today provides a broad range of communications and technology planning, project management and support services for all size customers in many industries. KGM is proud to be one of the first certified Women’s Business Enterprise (WBENC) organizations and is an active participant in the Women’s President Educational Association (WPEO).

Leaning on our over 30 years of experience supporting hundreds of trading clients, we can explore and analyze your existing technology landscape. Working with you and for you, we will develop a comprehensive strategy for your new technology, manage system and vendor selections and implement state of the art solutions. As a vendor-neutral party, we will advocate for the best costs for your budget on your behalf. Our project managers can support your efforts from development to selection to deployment.
