IV. Old Business

- a) Paying club dues - another club in the area started using PayPal to collect the club dues. PayPal now charges fees and reports the income to the IRS. They are stopping the use of PayPal immediately. It's a good thing we didn't go this route.
- b) Aerorama – Ed made up and printed a brochure of the event with a schedule for flying. This will be sent out to all the members to pick a time of when they would like to fly and what aircraft. There is room on the back of the flyer for sponsors. WMGH 105.5 had 12 commercials during the polka shows on behalf of the club with no charge. Jim graver asked about if any of the other local clubs have been contacted. Ed will send them a copy of the program and ask members to pick a time to fly. Nancy Stevens mentioned about giving people a ticket for a door prize as they come in. Ed got two small RC helicopters that could be used for door prizes. Scott Shadle mentioned about have a flight simulator at the field.

- c) Committees – it would be beneficial to have a committee with one person in charge to get things done before events. Scott Shadle said he is willing to help and just needs to be notified. Jim Dunn and Tim Vincent will take care of lining the field. Kyle Snyder will take care of getting cones and painting for parking and lining the parking lot. Volunteers are needed to man the gate entrance. Each member will be asked to take 1.5-hour shifts.
- d) Flight tables – Ed got wheels and axles to build up a few new tables. The tables also need to be painted.
- e) Community bulletin board – The right side of the signpost is a cork board to post info and things for sale. It may be beneficial to have a for sale page on the website. To post a listing on the site it will be free to members and $5 for non-members.

V. New business

- a) Flags at the field – The American flag took a bad hit during a storm last year around the Aerorama. Nancy Stevens said she might be able to get a new flag and pole from the American legion.
- b) Club member info – For the 2023 year all members need to fill out an application form so the roster can be updated and double checked.
- c) By laws updated – Those members that attend less than 4 meetings a year will have to pay $100 for the following years dues. This will be voted on at the September meeting.
- d) Getting new members – Ed posed the question of how do we get new members or how to bring present members to the meetings. Scott Shadle mentioned about using the social media more to reach out to potential members. Take photos and videos then post them to the club page and start up a Facebook group.
