LAS VEGAS — A Las Vegas family claims something crashed in their backyard, prompting them to call 911 about “non-human” beings – the thing is, this time, several people saw it.

On April 30 around 11:50 p.m., a Las Vegas Metro police officer’s body camera video recorded as something streaked low across the sky. Several people across eastern California, Nevada and Utah reported seeing the flash, according to the American Meteor Society.

Sources tell ASDP Investigators that it is likely something crashed into the yard, but exactly what remained unclear more than a month later. Drone video showed a circular imprint in the dirt.

About 40 minutes later, a man called 911, saying he and his family saw something fall from the sky and that there were two moving things in his northwest valley backyard.

Caller: There's like an 8-foot person beside it and another one is inside us and it has big eyes and it's looking at us — and it's still there,” the caller told a dispatcher.

Dispatcher: OK, where is this on your property?

Caller: In my backyard. I swear to God this is not a joke, this is actually — we're terrified.

Dispatcher: So, there's two people, there's two subjects in your backyard?

Caller: Correct and they're very large. They're like 8 foot, 9 feet, 10 foot. They look like aliens to us. Big eyes. They have big eyes. Like, I can't explain it, and big mouth. They're shiny eyes and they're human. They're 100% not human.

Dispatcher: OK.

The Metro police call log to ASDPInvestigators obtained shows several other family members confirmed the sighting to police.

The dispatcher sent two officers to the home to investigate. Investigators obtained body camera video from both of the officers.

“I'm so nervous right now,” one officer said as he is preparing to drive to the house.

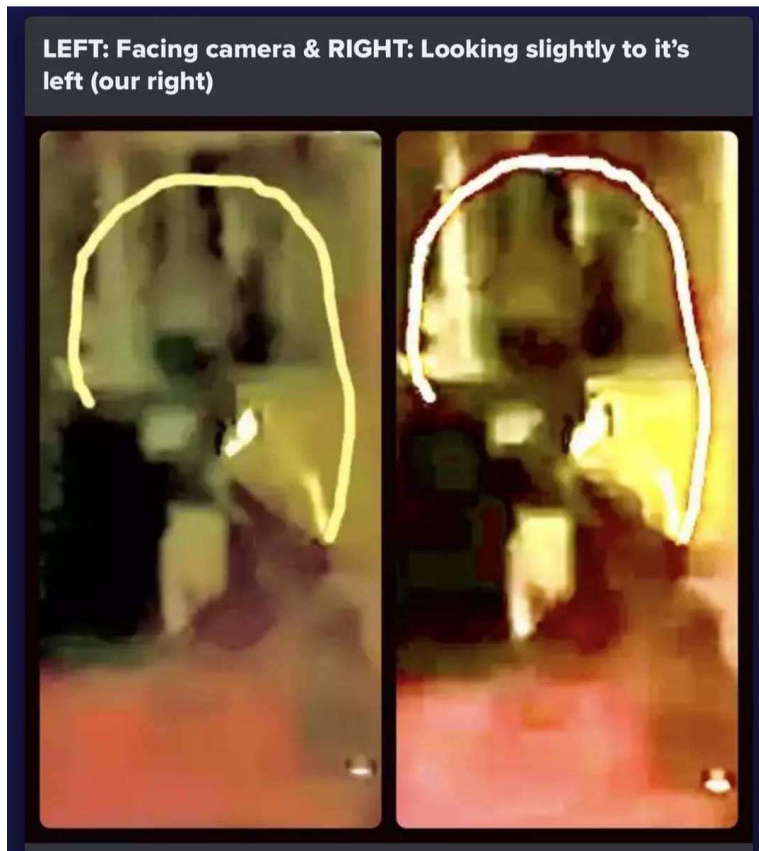

“I have butterflies bro — saw a shooting star and now these people say there's aliens in their backyard.”

Officers arrived at the home about a half-hour after the 911 call.
