God's Words at Home in You

“But if you make yourselves at home with me and my words are at home in you, you can be sure that whatever you ask will be listened to and acted upon.”

John 15:7 (MSG)

The Lord wants to bless your requests, but only when you are aligned with His will for your life. Sometimes people read the verse above and are frustrated when the new improved husband/wife isn't who walks in the door after work. They're angry when money isn't pouring in like they requested. When cancer and other sickness doesn't immediately disappear, some walk away from their faith. They give up on God when trouble continues to elude them. But when the Lord's words are at home in us, it means we understand that His will and ways are above ours. In faith, we choose to trust them over our own. And when we do, our language in prayer will reflect it. We will share our hopes and dreams with God, ending with “But Your will be done, not mine.” God hears your heart and has plans already in place to bless you with the right answer at the right time.

As we come together in unity with our new pastor it's important that we remember this is God's church and for such a time as this He has allowed people and pastor to come together for the up building of His Kingdom. Our prayers must align with the will of God.
