

Morgan Shelnutt

Be Bold

“Your hair is important. It’s the first image you present to people — you shouldn’t be afraid to put yourself out there,” says Morgan.

Vibrantly expressive from an early age, Morgan naturally gravitated to the creative arts but it was her mother who encouraged hairstyling as a career choice. “Not only did she understand my need for artistic expression, she understood my need to be in a career that embraced it. She even took me to get my hair dyed vivid colors way before it was acceptable.”

Licensed since 2002, Morgan specializes in precision and razor cuts, trendy styles, and the avant-garde.

“The weirder and wilder the better,” says Morgan. “I love it when clients come with an idea or even a handful of ideas and need someone to bring cohesion to it all. That’s really where I excel and feel the most inspired.”

Morgan Shelnutt

★★★★★ (2)

Be Bold “Your hair is important. It’s the first image you present to people—you shouldn’t be afraid to put yourself out there,” says Morgan. Vibrantly expressive from an early age, Morgan naturally gravitated to the creative arts but it was her mother who encouraged hairstyling as a career choice. “Not only did she understand my need for artistic expression, she understood my need to be in a career that embraced it. She even took me to get my hair dyed vivid colors way before it was acceptable.” Licensed since 2002, Morgan specializes in precision and razor cuts, trendy styles, and the avant-garde. “The weirder and wilder the better,” says Morgan. “I love it when clients come with an idea or even a handful of ideas and need someone to bring cohesion to it all.

Request