

Dear Neighbor,

These are challenging times. Our world, our culture, our community, are changing; and change can be very difficult.

This is our invitation to you: Come visit God—your God and ours—at Saint Mary Church, at the corner of William Street and Stafford Avenue in Fredericksburg. Come for a service of Scripture, prayer and sacrifice—the Holy Mass—or come when the church is quiet, simply to visit with Him. Tell the Lord what is on your mind; be still and listen, and find peace.

You see, ours is the Church founded by God, about the year 33 A.D., and it has not changed. The creed we follow is Christianity in its pure form. Jesus himself is present in the tabernacle; that truth is announced by the red lantern light beside it.

Should you ever wish to learn more, we are here for you. If you are seeking fellowship, we are here. But just for today, please know that you are warmly invited to God's house. Come! The door is open. The light is on.

God bless you,
