About our training

DELIVERY METHODS

To cater to the diverse needs of our students, our courses utilise a variety of delivery methods. These may involve face-to-face workshops held in classrooms or workplaces, virtual classrooms using platforms like Zoom/Teams, and some classes that necessitate home-based study and research.

Our delivery approach is interactive, resource-rich, and incorporates a variety of activities to enhance your learning experience.

ASSESSMENT

To evaluate your learning, we employ various assessment methods, including written and verbal questioning, short quizzes, observations of tasks performed in the workplace or simulated environments. In cases where assessments occur in the workplace, a supervisor may provide a third-party report on your on-the-job performance. Group projects may also be integrated, and supplementary evidence like workplace logbooks and reports/assignments may be utilised.

Each course is meticulously designed, employing best practice assessment methods tailored to the individual.
