Articulating Indigenous Identities Across the Seven Generations

Keynotes: Robin Wall Kimmerer & Rebecca Thomas

February 9-11, 2018

Trent University
Peterborough, Ontario

Call for Presenters

As human beings we currently occupy the 4th generation in the Seven Generations with three generations of ancestors behind us and three generations of descendants in front of us. This position offers us the unique opportunity to look back and reflect on the past and the teachings of our ancestors; to consider the present moment in Indigenous identity development while also contemplating how our contemporary understandings of identity may influence the ways that future generations understand and navigate their own realities.

We welcome presentations, workshops, posters, spoken word, or visual or performative expressions of Indigenous identity for the 2018 Indigenous Women's symposium taking place February 9-11 at Trent University.

Submissions should include a bio (50 word max), photo, title and brief summary (100 word max) of what will be shared. We especially welcome presentations from regional community members.

The submission process is electronic.
Please click here to complete the submission form.
Submissions are due by November 30, 2017.
