About Us

We started this brand story by saying that LOON Lock is all about family. Indeed, our brand was created for the LOON family, and is today tirelessly run by our family, for your family. Padlocks remain the preferred way of securing homes for many of us. With every happy customer we serve, we grow more steadfast in our mission of bettering the lives of families.

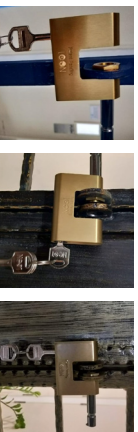

Within our first four months of business, hometown retail chain store & other individual hardware shop owners have picked up our product and we are now retailing at their stores islandwide. We will continue to create more touch points to reach our customer, in the form of our online store and on e-commerce platforms. And hopefully soon, we will be greeting you at your nearest neighborhood hardware store.

LOON Lock represents our father's hopes to create a legacy that will transcend his lifetime. Our brand story will not be complete without a shout-out to all our customers who have supported us since we started this humble business in May 2018. Your trust and acknowledgement are our greatest motivation to continue to innovate.

Now, we are all one LOON Lock family, bound by our commitment to those that matter most. Find out more about us at www.loonlock.com.
