

- 1) A "On May 5, a fire intentionally set by the National Park Service at Bandelier National Monument in New Mexico began burning out of control."(1)
- 2) C "Most certainly, the lives of the people who watched the fire swallow up so much of the land have been forever changed."(4)
- 3) C "Embers from the fire were being carried up to a mile away by the wind, causing spot fires to erupt."(3)
- 4) D "Strong winds and hot weather caused the fire to spread rapidly, making it difficult to contain."(3)
- 5) The author had a good attitude towards the good intentions of the National Park Service, even though the results were very devastating.(3)
- 6) If the author would have been writing for a newspaper in Los Alamos, the article probably would have talked more about the people who had to be evacuated from their homes and how they lost everything to an intentionally set fire that burned out of control.(3)
