The album is the product of close to three years work with the band refashioned as a duo. It follows up the successful EP of '12, as well as exclusive singles released from '16 onward. ARCHAIC FIRES is dedicated to the people of Chile and all other countries in protest for their rights—awakened to their struggles by the resolve and courage of the youth, and the Mapuche and all indigenous peoples. Two songs in particular address the political crisis and social upheaval. Several of the songs include homage and salute to the great inspiration of the native nations of both North and South America.

ARCHAIC FIRES has guest artist collaborators from Germany, Finland, Argentina and Chile, including Ger Egan (This Burning Effigy, former OBB, Vol Distil) and Jay Ravine (The Flatfield). Three of the songs are in Spanish and one in Russian, a unique tribute to Viktor Tsoi/ KINO.
