AUBURN, CA – The United Auburn Indian Community (UAIC) is proud to announce its contribution of $100,000 to the Penryn Fire Protection District (PFPD) to assist in the purchase of a new fire truck engine.

The UAIC Tribal Council, led by Chairman Gene Whitehouse, presented a check today to PFPD Chief Mitch Higgins at the UAIC Tribal Offices in Auburn (see attached photo).

“On behalf of the UAIC, it is a sincere privilege to have the ability to support the Penryn Fire Protection District,” said Chairman Whitehouse. “It is our hope that this contribution will assist in the agency’s efforts to continue to provide critical services to our local communities.”

The new fire engine will enable PFPD to continue to serve a wide range of citizens in Placer County, including residential neighborhoods, local businesses and recreational visitors.

“The Penryn Fire Protection District is grateful for the United Auburn Indian Community’s generous donation and unwavering support for our agency,” said Chief Mitch Higgins. “Our new fire engine gives us the ability to provide exceptional public safety while also ensuring the continued safety of our firefighters.”
