Kate Hype is a Houston based artist originally from the hill country of Texas. Kate's artwork celebrates positivity using a 90's nostalgia inspired color palette. She promotes being yourself, even if it means being awkward and nonconforming like herself. Kate's works include self portraits, mouths and western, folk art and crafts. You can follow Kate on instagram and Facebook @kate_hype_works to catch markets dates and local venues to purchase her work. This Collective exhibit is Kate's first one person show.

A Painter

@crownedheadsoftx

A Painter is a Donut Park based artist. With her lively, woodland creature, “dare to be” style art, A creates exploratory conversations that explore creativity. She typically depicts things that aren’t, and shouldn’t be.

She is for outlawing laughter.

For more information on her work, good luck. We’re praying near you.

Gabi Lara

Brandon Oldenburg

“Aerozine 50, Marlboros and RC Cola”, by artist Brandon Oldenburg, is a 12 canvas acrylic work that captures the essence of the calm, cool and highly capable people at NASA’s Mission Control in Houston during the nervous excitement of the Apollo era.

“Aerozine 50, Marlboros and RC Cola’s 12 canvases show a mostly blue and green Mission Control view of what helps make rocket fly - people, monitor screens - some blank, others filled with rockets and astronauts, headsets for easy listening and talking, telephones ready for operators, and many and various meters, switches and buttons.

In and among the important and significant rocket flying equipment is the everyday stuff that also help rockets fly - a pair of eye glasses, cups of coffee, a can of cola, and a pack of cigarettes, a pipe, and an ashtray.

Brandon’s weaving of the important and the everyday makes for a work of art that is fluent in masterful storytelling.

About our Knewz Lettr

Knewz Lettr is a monthly ham-made
M A G A Z I N E N publication or zeen (sometimes spelled “zine”). We, The Collective, make this zeen to delight ourselves and share the pulse of The Collective. Kim Martin (name drop #1) says The Collective is soon to be “the coolest spot in East Harris County”. Thanks Kim. And now that our side-hatch doors have been open for 3 whole moon cycles, we are beginning to feel Kim’s prophesy coming true.
Really, we are a swell little place up on the north end of town -- a breath of fresh air in an otherwise highly polluted breathscape. We, the art space, exhibit local artists in the gallery and local musicians on weekends
when we turn into an amazingly tiny listening room.
We, the zeen, are here to get the word out about local creatives and all upcoming events at The Collective, located at 214 Center Street in Deer Park, Texas.

Follow the socials for more information.

BIG thanks to Yvette Orosco from The Houston Chronicle for the lovely article about our little space.

The decor inside the Collective Art Space in Deer Park is a stark contrast to its neighbor, the Pemex refinery across the street.

The decorative walls, art pieces and overall creative vibe has added some color and whimsy to the more familiar backdrop along Highway 225 since opening in July.

Art is a breath of fresh air, even among the refineries.
