Putting your pet first

At Vets4Pets Bradford we understand that considering your pet's passing and taking that final step for their wellbeing and relief can be extremely upsetting.

To make this process as soothing as possible we've created a comfort room designed to give you time with your pet during those difficult final moments.

A memory book is available for owners to express their grief and leave a message in memory of their pet.

Here you can spend as much time as you feel is necessary with your pet, so that you can make those important decisions in a peaceful and calming environment.

In addition, our team have all undergone specialised training to better understand this difficult process and be better equipped to support both patients and their owners during this difficult time.

We also offer the option of taking a clipping of your pet's hair home with you, along with a small poem and some Forget-Me-Not seeds, which can be planted in memory of your loved one.
