

Romans 1:14-17

Romans 1:16

Unashamed

There are times when all of us have been ashamed of something, ourselves, someone else, our nation, a business, or something else. Being ashamed can be a good thing. It's a reminder that's there is right/wrong, or good/bad. However, we should never be ashamed of causes that are right. The apostle Paul said he was "Not Ashamed" of the gospel. It was another way of saying he gloried in it. Remember Galatians 6:14 where he said "I will boast" only in the cross.

Have there been times I've been ashamed of Jesus?

What was the cause?

What is the "antidote" for this shame?
