God has promised our holiness, so we should much in prayer for the furtherance of that great work in our hearts and lives. God has promised to sanctify his church, so we should be praying earnestly for our brothers and sisters in Christ that God would sanctify them through and through. God has promised to save his wandering sheep and add them to his flock, so we should be praying passionately for the conversion of neighbors and friends and family members who are not believers. (Duguid, p. 160)

Instead of criticizing, or gossiping, pray. "Father, this is your child. I know that their sanctification is your will for them. I'm just as big a sinner as they are, though perhaps in different ways. Please work in their heart and in mine by your Spirit and grant us both repentance and transformation. (Duguid)
