

Is the wrath of God still a thing?

John 3:31-36

The topic is avoided in many churches. After all it's not popular, it's too judgmental, God is about love, everyone's going to heaven, He was wrath in the OT. I believe Jesus died and rose, isn't that enough?

Can we profess Him with our lips and deny Him with our lives? I believe, isn't that enough?

God is _____ against evil. His wrath is a settled, determined response. Psalm 7:11 "God is _____ with the wicked every day."

God's wrath on a national level can be seen in Romans 1. The wicked will experience the unmixed wrath of God. (Rev 14:10).

Joel Beeke commented that God's Wrath is:

It is _____ in its force. Nahum 1:6

It is _____ in its power. Psalm 90:11

It is _____ in its effects. Isaiah 33:14

It is _____ in its reach. Deut 32:22

It is _____ in its punishment. Heb 2:3

It is _____ in exercise, eternal in duration. Rev 14:11

It is _____ in its judgment. Rom 2:5

Do you love people enough to warn them of His current and eternal wrath?

John the Baptist's disciples were unnerved about this One who was baptizing and getting more attention. Why would JTB be ok with that? The conditions would have to be perfect for this to happen.

Jesus is the Perfect Witness.

- Jesus possessed _____
- Jesus preached with _____
- Jesus continues to witness through His _____

Jesus is the Certified Witness.

- Jesus has _____ of God's Spirit

This was evidenced by his _____ and his _____.

- Jesus has _____ from the Father.

The wrath of God remains on every human being unless there is something that shields us.....