Testimony at Fed Hearing Feb 26th

~~Good morning and thank you for the opportunity to speak on the proposed merger of CIT and OneWest.~~ My name is Liz Ryan Murray, I am the Policy Director at National People's Action. NPA is a network of city and state based community-organizing groups, representing low and moderate-income families in 18 states. We are about to celebrate our 43rd year of fighting for banks and the financial industry to be accountable to the communities they are chartered to serve. For us, that began fighting for the passage of the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act and the Community Reinvestment Act. We continued fighting when Wall Street crashed the economy by demanding financial reform and foreclosure relief for those who were hardest hit.

We fundamentally believe that banks and the financial system exist to serve the people that work and live in this country. That belief is not a pie in the sky idea; it's codified in our laws and our regulatory structure. Your job as regulators reflects this. Your responsibility is to ensure that the financial sector serves communities while 'doing no harm' to the economy.

This proposed merger fails on both counts. I am here today to urge you to deny the application for merger. I bring with me the signatures of an additional 6,500 people from our network who add their voices to my appeal. + to the 15,000 signatures you have already received

I know there are many people here today who will eloquently speak to the failure of these two institutions to serve their communities, so I'd like to stress today why allowing the creation of another Too Big To Fail/Systemically Important Financial institution from these two entities is particularly problematic. One of the key factors in evaluating systemic risk is the level of interconnectedness an institution has with the economy and other players in the national and international community. CIT bank filed for bankruptcy in 2008 precisely because it was too interconnected and that has not changed. Allowing CIT to merge without addressing this issue is downright reckless.

What does this merger promise? A more risky financial system, a bigger pay-out to the already inflated CEO and Board Chair compensation and shareholder dividends made possible part from unpaid TARP loans and FDIC foreclosure payments.

Your job, as regulators, is not and has never been to ensure a payout to bank shareholders and CEO's, but to ensure the safety and stability of the system and that the needs of communities – all communities – are being met. That duty requires you to deny this application.

One final note I feel compelled to make. In the years preceding the financial crisis that devastated communities and wiped out billions in wealth from Communities of Color, NPA and our allies, including NCRC, CRC, and countless others warned the Fed, the OCC, the FDIC and the dearly departed OTS, about the dangers coming from the flood of toxic credit and disappearance of responsible credit, the dangerous intermingling of insured funds and speculation, and from the creation of behemoth banks. Many, in fact of the same issues you will hear about in regards to this merger.

My purpose today is not to say “we told you so.” It's to say – please listen this time.

NATIONAL

The Federal Reserve should not reward banks that unfairly foreclose on homeowners and squander public funds with a merger that would make them “too big to fail.”

Please reject the proposed merger of OneWest Bank and CIT Group.
