Prairie School of Mission Aviation

Marijn Goud is currently working as a part-time flight instructor and mechanic at Prairie School of Mission Aviation, where he started his training in August of 2009. He was born and raised in the Netherlands. Since a flight with a MAF pilot in training he always wanted to become a missionary pilot. Following high school he went to university and also got his mechanic license. During this time he spent 6 months in Papua with MAF, which reconfirmed his calling to become a missionary pilot. During his study he also met his wife Noortje an elementary school teacher. They got married in 2007 with a combined desire and calling to go into missions. Following initial contact with MAF, they decided to follow a year of Bible/Mission training at Redcliffe College in England. After which they moved to Canada for Marijn's flight training. Judah Goud was born in January 2011.

Marijn en Noortje's combined passion is to show God's love to people in a practical and personal way, giving help where help is needed the most. They are currently exploring the possibility with MAF Canada to serve in Angola, Africa as pilot-mechanic.
