THE BEST KEPT SECRET IN FOLEY

BY LINDA WILLIFORD

There is a warehouse building off Hwy 59 tucked behind some retail businesses that could easily be missed. This warehouse is a bookstore with over 500,000 new and used books and has recently opened to the public. JHS Bookstore, named by its owner John Henry Soderberg, is much more than a warehouse bookstore. Soderberg said, "Everyone who enters the front door says, "Wow!"

The many thousands and thousands of books that are located in the back of the warehouse are there to accommodate Soderberg's online business. The front part of the warehouse has just recently opened to the public as a retail bookstore.

JHS Bookstore is organized with different areas of interests. For example, Soderberg has over 15,000 cookbooks located in a little alcove that gives the ambiance of being in a kitchen, with kitchen décor, a dining table, and even a refrigerator.

Soderberg has a special area set up as the Oval Office, surrounded by American history and political science books. He has a master's degree in political science, which explains why he is a huge fan of books about American history and political science. One of his favorite quotes is from Thomas Jefferson, printed on his coffee cup, saying, "I cannot live without books."

Soderberg is a retired librarian with many years at the St. Louis Public Library. His father was from Sweden, and his mother was from Scotland. Soderberg is the first American generation of his family.

The bookstore has an area for mystery and true crime books and a chapel area for religious books. In addition, there is a large

EXIT Realty Landmark is blooming with new agents added to our roster. We are so excited to have Caroline Ingle, Heidi Junkermeier, Jessica Sweeney and Lucy Watkins in our family of Realtors®. Caroline hails from Jasper, AL and made Mobile her home early in her adult life. Heidi J, as we affectionately call her, is excited to be residing in Foley, after trading those cold Minnesota winters with the chance to dip her toes in the sandy beaches of the Alabama Gulf Coast. Jessica established her southern roots in Central Florida before making her home in Mobile and the Eastern Shore years ago. And Lucy is Alabama through and through and brings years of previous experience in Real Estate (residential and commercial). All four have been busy showing buyers and sellers through a professional approach, knowledge of the market, experience in building relationships and expert negotiating skills. Here at EXIT we enjoy a family atmosphere and working diligently to give our clients the best opportunity to buy or sell their real property. We don't close transactions, we close clients for life. and inviting area for children and children's books. Soderberg also has a sweet spot for local authors. He carries books from local authors, including states of Alabama, Mississippi, and Florida. If you are looking for local authors writing about local interests, check out that display behind the sales counter.

Soderberg has traveled all over the world for 25 years without flying. He explains how he and his late wife would travel by boat and train.

The warehouse has thousands and thousands of books, which Soderberg says "successfully contribute to his online business and helps support his bookstore business."

To help keep his warehouse full, he also buys books from local bookstores going out of business.

He says "that they fill from 50-100 orders per day with online orders from businesses, libraries, schools, and homeschooling, as well as book sales on Amazon and eBay."

Soderberg says "that he loves what he is doing. It's not work, not a chore; it's a fun undertaking."

The bookstore is unique. Not only does he have books with specialized areas, but it also has music LPs, 78s, 45s, cassettes, and 8 tracks. In addition, he has collectibles, glassware, framed art, and prints. And there is a display of a collection of vintage Life Magazines.

Soderberg has an added attraction to his bookstore that he inherited. The warehouse came with a stage. The warehouse was known as the Pate Country Hall a few years ago. Then, it was a local venue for country music. But now Soderberg said that he plans to use the stage for author lectures, showing movies, and other activities, including music.

JHS Bookstore has two upcoming events in May. On May 4, the South Baldwin Literacy Council will have a free event with the Youth Literacy Program for graduated students and their parents. And on May 5, in memory of Soderberg's late wife, Dr. Diane Camilleri, Veterinarian of Medicine, the bookstore will hold a pet adoption event. The Haven No-Kill Animal Shelter in Fairhope and JHS Bookstore will promote the No-Kill Campaign for animals in Baldwin County.

To learn about upcoming events see the JHS Bookstore ad on page 4 for store hours and location.

Freddy Todd of PATHWAY CHURCH

A year ago (Easter Sunday) we launched Pathway Church - Foley Campus and it was a great weekend. As I reflect on this past year - I am encouraged. There are people who worship with us each week now that we had never met before we launched. We have seen lives changed, people going public with their faith in Baptism, joining small groups and doing life with each other.

Life has it's challenges but there is hope. No matter what you are facing, good or bad, I pray you will face it with great HOPE! Remembering that Hebrews 11:1 teaches us that, "Faith, is the substance of things hoped for..." I know that facing hard things is not always easy. I know that not everything we face will be changed. But I also know that nothing can change unless it is faced. So today, in this season of HOPE, pull your shoulders back, lift your head and face whatever it is with the confident HOPE that the One who brought HOPE to the world is with you and is for you. You are not alone. So step out and face today with HOPE and watch what God will do.

We would love to invite you to join with us and do life together. We want you to feel at home here. When you step through the doors you'll be welcomed with a warm, hospitable smile. Grab a cup of coffee and we will help you find your seat. Services run about an hour and features worship, creative elements, and gospel centered teaching. Pathway Kids is also available for children birth - 6th grade during every worship experience. You can enjoy a great service knowing your child is being loved and taught in an environment designed for them!

We meet on Sundays at 10am

THE OPPORTUNITY TO HELP OTHERS IS REWARDING

BY JASON ZASKY

Patrick Bass and his wife Lori have been living and working in Baldwin County since 2019 and are already in love with the area.

"Foley is a great little town. It reminds me of where I grew up in Georgia in the 1970s," offers Patrick Bass. "We moved here because of the beach and the school system, but after I opened an office in Foley, I said, 'Wow, this area is booming.'"

Much of the growth has been driven by new residents. Bass is a broker for HealthMarkets Insurance and writes policies for health care, Medicare, life, long-term care, and disability insurance. He helps people settle into the community and find the health insurance they need.

Few agents in Baldwin County specialize in helping clients with health and Medicare policies.

"It's hard to pick up the phone and find people who do what I do," he says.

"Our phone rings off the hook," says Bass, noting that his customers range from 19 to 92 years of age and from low-income to millionaires. He says upwards of 85% of his business comes from people who have recently moved to south Alabama, though he also serves Mississippi and the northern part of Florida.

That helps explain why Bass recently moved to a bigger office in Foley, despite having been in business for less than four years.

"Anyone that needs affordable health insurance, we're available," adds Bass, referring to himself and his wife, who works with him at their office on North McKenzie Street. "Anyone that has questions about Medicare, I can answer most of those questions."

In fact, much of Patrick's job is providing advice and helping clients make the best decision for themselves.

“I educate people about individual plans and try to direct them to the right insurance plans based on income and needs—and to the right Medicare plans based on health needs,” he says, reminding that health insurance, and Medicare in particular, can be very confusing.

“I see a lot of smart, smart people, but they have no idea what to do about Medicare when they turn 65,” he says.

But it’s the opportunity to help others that makes the work so rewarding for Bass—personally and professionally.

“I just got a touching thank-you letter from a lady and her husband, the latter of whom is battling cancer. They were on Medicare and in poor financial shape, and I helped them get into a Medicare savings program that saved them the part B premium, and I also got them into a plan with no co-pays. I saved them a lot of money, so they can now afford to go to Atlanta to get the cancer treatments that her husband needs,” he says.

Beyond that, Bass—who lives in Orange Beach and is a proud member of a local church—has been known to go above and beyond to see that his clients are looked after, going so far as to take his elderly clients shopping—and to doctor’s appointments, as needed.

It’s that level of personal attention—and attention to detail—that seems certain to help his business thrive and grow in the coming years, right along with Foley and the rest of Baldwin County.

“You have so many people moving here, and it’s the fastest-growing county in Alabama. And with so many people from California, Illinois, New York, Wisconsin, and Michigan, it’s becoming kind of a melting pot,” he concludes. “More growth is coming. It isn’t slowing down at all.”

INSTRUCTIONS:

- In a Dutch oven, cook sausage, ground beef, onion, and garlic over medium heat until well browned. Drain fat. Stir in crushed tomatoes, tomato paste, tomato sauce, and water. Season with sugar, basil, fennel seeds, Italian seasoning, 1 tsp. salt, pepper, and 2 tbsp. parsley. Simmer, covered, for 1-1/2 hours.
 - Bring a large pot of lightly salted water to a boil. Cook lasagna noodles in boiling water for 8 to 10 minutes. Drain noodles, and rinse with cold water. In a mixing bowl, combine cottage cheese with egg, remaining parsley, and ½ tsp. salt.
 - Preheat oven to 375 degrees.
 - To assemble: Spread 1 ½ cups of meat sauce in the bottom of a 9x13-inch baking dish. Arrange 6 noodles lengthwise over meat sauce. Spread with ½ of the cottage cheese mixture. Top with 1/3 of mozzarella cheese slices. Spoon 1 ½ cups meat sauce over mozzarella, and sprinkle with ¼ cup Parmesan cheese. Repeat layers, and top with remaining mozzarella and Parmesan cheese. Cover with foil: to prevent sticking, either coat foil with cooking spray, or make sure the foil does not touch the cheese.
 - Bake in preheated oven for 25 minutes. Remove foil and bake an additional 25 minutes. Cool for 15 minutes before serving.
- Serve with garlic toast and tossed salad. Leftovers are good too!
