

The Clarendon Courier

Vol. XI, Issue 1

Thursday, February 22, 2024

$1 on newsstands

Mending Hearts

Hundreds of local residents turn out for annual Heartfest fundraiser (p. 8)

Glitz and glamour

Guests embrace 'Roaring Twenties' theme at Clarendon Hills Infant Welfare benefit (p. 2)

Rivalry Woes

Hinsdale Central boys basketball drops both games to archrival Lyons Township (p. 14)

COMMUNITY

CHIW brings glamour to annual benefit

Mike Ellis

LOMBARD—Roughly 380 guests attended the Clarendon Hills chapter of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago auxiliary's (CHIW) annual benefit at The Westin Lombard on Feb. 3.

The attendance was a record for the chapter, which moved its benefit to a new venue this year in order to accommodate more guests.

The theme of the benefit was "Light Up the Night with the Roaring Twenties," which attendees embraced by donning luxurious apparel to create a Gatsby-like vibe.

Guests had the opportunity to take glasses of champagne from a homemade champagne wall as they socialized before moving into the dining room for the program.

Dueling Pianos provided live musical entertainment, while attendees kept themselves entertained at a pair of photo booths.

The live auction included a vacation package to a four-bedroom house at the Four Seasons in Napa, Calif., donated by a chapter member family, as well as a trip for two to Tuscany.

Clarendon Hills Infant Welfare hosted its annual benefit, "Light Up the Night with the Roaring Twenties," at The Westin Lombard on Feb. 3.

A physician from Infant Welfare's Angel Harvey Family Health Center functioned as featured speaker, sharing how the clinic has assisted some of the patients she has served.

Chapter members Jen Alzman and Amy Lizzadro served as benefit co-chairs.

Proceeds from the benefit will primarily support Infant Welfare's new food pantry, which opened shortly before

PHOTOS BY CHERYL BROWN

Thanksgiving last year.

For more information about Clarendon Hills Infant Welfare, visit www.clarendonhillsinfantwelfare.org.