---------------------------------------	------------------

Note: This package has been made on minimum hour requirement. Anything required over and above the package will be billed separately to the student. Extra flight or ground may differ from student to student.

Please be advised that all installment payments are contingent upon maintaining a positive balance in your Flight Schedule Pro account. Should your account balance fall below $1,000 at any point, even prior to the scheduled installment due date, you will be required to settle the upcoming installment immediately to continue your training. Airman Flight Training is committed to ensuring all students have the necessary financial standing to sustain their flight training programs and will not permit any student to engage in flying activities with a negative account balance.
