"It's All Your Fault! 12 Tips for Managing People Who Blame Others for Everything

By Bill Eddy, LCSW, Esq." It is a non-clinician look at people with high conflict personalities derived from personality disorders such as borderline personality, narcissistic personality, histrionic personality and anti-social personality. It was written for use by the general public but I found it had approaches and strategies that were very helpful when dealing with the people we support who have these types of personality disorders.

Moore Clinical Services is excited to present future opportunities for more skills-based groups using The Healthy Relationships Curriculum®. Healthy Relationships Curriculum® facilitates psychoeducation and teaches skills in 3 areas: Caring for Myself, Understanding My body, and Relationship Development.

Exploring personal care and hygiene, human anatomy, sexuality, understanding types of relationships and promoting safe, healthy relationship development (with a chance to focus on internet and social media safety), the curriculum has been adapted by our clinical therapists to meet our client's needs.

Developed by Wesley Family Services and Wesley Schools, the curriculum has been adapted and implemented with room to grow. We hope to offer multiple groups through 2023 (FY23 and FY24), both for new participants and for participants who are returning for a deeper dive! Timing for groups will depend on expressed interest. Cost for the group is estimated at $600 for 10-12 (tbd) sessions with team consultation.

If you have a client who is interested in learning more, or who is being referred for the group, please reach out as soon as possible to discuss funding/cost and to assist in our planning for the 2023 calendar year. For more information about the curriculum itself, please visit <https://healthyrelationshipcurriculum.org/>; to learn about how the curriculum is adapted, see an attached summary or reach out to Katherine Nault. All referrals or other questions, please reach out to Katherine Nault at Katherine.nault@moorecenter.org
