

I'll Buy That!

Pack 1

Kidz Rock University

Twenty statements are listed on the following page. Read each one to those playing the game and if they agree with it, they are to raise their hand and say, "I'll buy that." They are to keep their hands up until you reveal whether the statement just read was true or not.

If it was, those with their hands up are still in the game and those whose hands didn't go up are eliminated. On the flip side, if the statement was false, those whose hands are up are eliminated while those that remained quiet are still in the game.

On the statements that are false, the portion of each of those statements that made it false is highlighted in red. Off to the right of those statements are the word(s) that would make the statement true.

The game is over when only one person is still in the game. If multiple players remain after all 20 statements have been read, then congratulations are in order for all of them!
