The C&C 32.

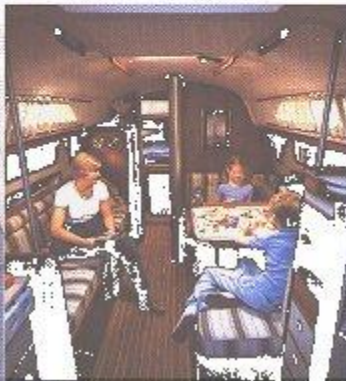

Her creature comforts disguise the drive of a winner.

To look at the C&C 32, she's a lush, comfortable cruiser.

To sail her, she's a powerful, yet forgiving, racer.

Above the waterline, she's somewhat traditional, with a vertical transom, unusually clean topsides and long cabin trunk for 6-foot-plus headroom. Below the waterline, she's C&C: a fine entry and a high-aspect fin keel (keel/centerboard optional). She has light displacement relative to her sail area.

Our advice to the sailor who wants a fast-moving 32-footer with outstanding off-the-wind performance, very high speed upwind, a custom-tailored cockpit and unencumbered space, above and below, is to place an order for the C&C 32 now.

There simply is not another yacht of this size with the performance, unyielding attention to detail and creature comforts of the C&C 32.
