

CHROMESH

GLASS

ASG's unique new product takes Glass facades to a whole new level, with chromesh comes in different types of colours, materials and thicknesses that are not only attractive elements for design but also fulfill high performance requirements on sun and glare-protection and allow views to the outside.

Chromesh is a woven wire mesh that is laminated between two glass panels that gives the building a special glow and a metallic shimmer in the sunlight.

Available in various colours.
