

U and Universal

Popcorn for the People!

Popcorn for the People is a nonprofit established to create meaningful employment for those with Autism and other disabilities. They aim to combat the current unemployment rate of 80% in the autism community. It all started with Samuel Bier who has autism. Samuel was looking for employment and the opportunity to take over a popcorn store became available. Samuel and others began experimenting with different flavors of popcorn. Before long, Popcorn for the People had an overwhelming response. It is now available online at www.popcornforthepeople.com 100% of the profits go to employ adults with autism.

Did you know?

Universal's website has been updated. It has improved functionality, a fresh look, and is more streamlined. You can also share content that you would like to see on Universal's website or Facebook by submitting stories to social@umhs.net. We will ensure that all stories meet HIPAA compliance expectations prior to posting.

Terry Bedford

Assistant State Training Director

www.umhs.net