Meet the Chief

Hello neighbors, my name is Evan Roe and I am the new fire chief of the Trappe Volunteer Fire Co. I wanted to take the opportunity to introduce myself.

I have been a member of the Trappe Volunteer Fire Co. for 9 years and have served as a Firefighter/EMT, Lieutenant, Captain, and now Chief. I moved here in 2013 from Oxford, where I was a member of the Oxford Volunteer Fire Department for 11 years. I joined as a cadet at the age of 12. There I served as a Firefighter/EMT, Lieutenant, and Assistant Chief.

I work full time for Chopank Electric Coop. as an AMI Network and Smart Grid Technician. My responsibilities include maintaining the network and equipment that read the Smart Meters, and currently I am working on the fiber optic grid to bring broadband internet to underserved, or unserved, parts of the Eastern Shore. I also work part-time as an EMT for Talbot County Department of Emergency Services.

I am honored to be able to head up a team of truly dedicated and professional volunteers. Our members are the epitome of neighbors helping neighbors. They've done countless hours of training and preparation to be able to best assist the community in whatever emergency they are alerted for.

I look forward to serving my term in office the best I can to serve our great community of Trappe. If you should have any questions we can help you with, or maybe would be interested in joining the department, send us a message on Facebook! Make sure to like our page to stay up to date with fundraisers, upcoming events, and calls that we run on a daily basis.
