Cabin owners seek help to stop DNR

BY COURTNEY HUGHETT
Martin County Journal Publisher

Adam Greene and Cody Roush talked to the Martin County Commissioners at their meeting Tuesday night, June 4 about a notice they received from the DNR saying they must remove their cabins on West River Road, along the White River, or they will be fined $500 a day. According to the DNR, the cabins are in a floodplain and proper permitting was not acquired prior to erecting the cabins, despite them having been built years ago. According to a letter Greene received from DNR, the “unauthorized activities” pose an “unreasonable hazard to the safety of life or property through the construction and use of a residence or adobe in the floodway.”

Cody Roush told the commissioners that there are cabins and other structures up and down the White River and he is not sure why Martin County is being picked on. The cabin owners wanted to know what the commissioners could do to help.

County Attorney Dave Lett said that he has advised the commissioners to let the state handle the enforcement of the matter, it’s not a county issue. Commissioner Paul George said that when the DNR came to talk to them a few years ago, threatening to enforce this floodplain issue, the commissioners told the DNR representative that they were not on board with the plan. He said the county does not have zoning and was not interested in enforcing what taxpayers build on their own properties.

County Attorney Lett suggested that Greene, Roush and any other property owner pool their resources to hire an attorney. He also suggested that they speak to their state representatives to see if they could get something done. Both men said they have contacted their state representatives and have not received a call back.

In other business, County Attorney Lett said that it was decided not to seek bids for ambulance service for the county and to continue with Knox County EMS at a cost of $210,000 a year for the next four years. He presented the new contract to the commissioners that will expire on June 30, 2023. There have been no changes to the contract for Knox County EMS for the past eight years. Commissioner Kevin Boyd voted against the contract however it was approved with the votes of Commissioners Paul George and Dan Gregory. Boyd did not say why he was opposed.

The commissioners voted to re-open West River Road to all traffic since the erosion issues have been repaired.

The commissioners approved the highway department to repave three roads using county funds, not a part of matching grant funds or Community Crossings grant monies and done by highway department workers. Those roads include Mill Road to Lauck Lane, Rusk Road to Spencer Hollow Road and Graded Road to Sawmill Road. This paving will be contingent on available funds.

The commissioners approved Terri Alcorn to serve as the county’s ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) Coordinator. (See 'DNR' on page 2)

Council not fond of wording on additional appropriations

BY COURTNEY HUGHETT
Martin County Journal Publisher

Additional appropriations and how they are advertised topped the discussion of the Martin County Council meeting Monday night, May 3. Kathy Collins, with Community Corrections, had requested the council’s approval for additional appropriations of $24,900.20 from grants she had received. Council Member Buck Stiles asked why it was considered an additional appropriation if the money was actually received from grant funds, and not more money being taken from the general fund. He said calling it an additional appropriation makes the public believe that it’s an additional money request and not funds that were provided through a grant.

Prosecutor Aureola Wright, who was in the audience, said she understands the question and she has felt the same

Man arrested for rape and child molestation

On May 28, the Indiana State Police were called to assist the Loogootee Police Department with the report of a rape. Indiana State Police Trooper Detective Shane Staggs responded and gathered information from the Loogootee Officer and then began his investigation.

During the course of his investigation, it was discovered that Dakota Lee Browning, 26, of Jasper, had met the juvenile victim at a graduation party and had went to a residence in Loogootee with the victim following the graduation party. In the early morning hours of May 26, it is alleged that Browning went into the bedroom the victim was sleeping in and had sexual intercourse with the victim against her will.

Detective Staggs was able to gather enough probable cause for the Martin Circuit Court to issue arrest warrants for Browning for rape, a Level 3 Felony and for child molestation, a Level 1 Felony.

All suspects are presumed innocent unless and until proven guilty in a court of law.

way requesting an additional appropriation from money she took in as revenue in her office.

Auditor Bobbie Abel said that the state determines how the county has to deal with non-budgeted requests. She said after the budget is set in stone each year, any additional money that comes in must be approved by the council as an additional appropriation in order to be spent.

Stiles asked if there was any way to advertise the additional appropriation with a notation stating whether it is additional money being requested or money taken in as a grant or department revenue. The auditor said she could ask the department of local government finance.

Dena Held, Extension Educator, who was in the audience, offered to see if Purdue University could send a financial specialist to provide a workshop on budgets to the council and the public.

The council, in a 4-2 vote, approved the $21,500 request for the prosecutor’s office to hire an additional attorney for the remainder of the year. The prosecutor had requested extra help in her office to catch up on many cases that were years old and the onslaught of new cases. In a split vote last month, the council had approved creating the position but the money to fund it had to be advertised prior to approval. On Monday, Council Members Buck Stiles and Randy Winger voted against funding the position with Council Members Barb McFeaters, Richard Summers, Keith Gibson and Sherri Bowling voting in favor. The $21,500, in addition to the state’s reimbursement of $17,000, for a child support deputy, will fund the position until next year. The new deputy prosecutor will do child support cases part of the time and low-level criminal cases the remainder of the time.

The prosecutor told the council that her office is working diligently to save money where they can, including recently finding out that reimbursement requests to the state for child support were not done correctly in the past. She said they will be submitting paperwork (See 'COUNCIL' on page 2)

VALERIE MCCARTHY

One arrested and four injured in head-on collision on State Road 450

The Martin County Sheriff’s Office, Shoals Fire Department, and Martin County Ambulance responded to a head-on collision on State Road 450, approximately a half-a-mile south of Hickory Ridge Church last Wednesday evening that temporarily shut down the highway.

At approximately 4:25 p.m. Wednesday, May 29, 34-year-old Valerie McCarthy, of Shoals, was traveling south on State Road 450 in a 2001 Chevy Silverado when she went left of center and struck an oncoming 2016 Ford F-150, driven by 48-year-old Kevin Scott Hert Sr., of Shoals.

Upon impact McCarthy’s vehicle stopped in the north bound lane and Hert’s vehicle came to rest off the east side of the roadway. Three passengers in Hert’s vehicle, including two minors, were transported to Daviess Community Hospital by Martin County Ambulance for treatment of injuries sustained in the crash. A fourth passenger in Hert’s vehicle was transported to Daviess Community Hospital by a family member at the scene. At the time of the accident, McCarthy had two minor children with her, one of which sustained an abrasion to her (See 'ARREST' on page 2)

The commissioners discussed whether to allow Frontier to have right of way to install internet cable down certain roads in the county. Discussion followed about whether this would prevent other companies being able to install or upgrade services for residents. In the end, the commissioners approved allowing the right of way with the provision that Frontier cannot install in the ditches and must be in communication with the highway department prior to any work being done.

Phil Todd, with the Martin County Historical Society, asked what the next step is on getting the property behind the county museum transferred to the historical society. The property, containing a house, is currently owned by the county. County Attorney Lett said the first step is to get the county surveyor to mark the property. Todd asked if the historical society could go ahead and start tearing down the house and the county attorney replied that it would be better to wait until the land was surveyed and the property was deeded to the historical society.

Commissioner Paul George said that next year is the county's 200th anniversary. He would like the commissioners to plan some sort of celebration for the bicentennial.

Animal Control Deputy Josh Hughett reported that there are currently 87 inmates in the jail with 29 of them from Vigo County.

Kathy Collins, Community Corrections Director, asked the county attorney neck in the crash.

Deputy Wright transported Valerie McCarthy to the Daviess Community Hospital where she was administered a chemical test to check for the presence of substances and alcohol. The results for McCarthy's test were positive for PCP, Methamphetamine, Opiates, Amphetamines, Benzodiazepines, and Oxycodone. McCarthy was placed under arrest and transported to the Martin County Security Center without further incident.

Investigating the accident was Martin County Deputy John Wright, who was assisted by Sheriff Travis Roush, Deputy Andrea Barnett, Deputy Cody Shinn, the Shoals Fire Department, and Martin County Ambulance.

McCarthy was charged with operating while intoxicated controlled substance, a Class C Misdemeanor; operating while intoxicated endangerment x7, Class A Misdemeanors; operating while intoxicated prior, a Level 6 Felony; operating while intoxicated with minor passenger x2, Level 6 Felonies; operating while intoxicated causing serious bodily injury x4 with a prior conviction, Level 5 Felonies; neglect of a dependent, a Level 6 Felony; neglect of a dependent, a Level 5 Felony; possession of a controlled substance PCP schedule I, a Class A Misdemeanor; possession of methamphetamine, a Level 6 Felony; possession of a controlled substance opiates schedule I, a Class A Misdemeanor; possession of a controlled substance amphetamines schedule II, a Class A Misdemeanor; possession of a controlled substance benzodiazepines schedule IV, a Class A Misdemeanor; and possession of a narcotic drug oxycodone, a Level 6 Felony.

ney if he had been able to work out the new lease for their building on Southeast First Street in Loogootee. She said the current landlord, Teresa Nolley, said they could continue the current lease without signing a new one, but Collins said she would prefer to have a new one put together with signatures. County Attorney Lett said he would speak to Nolley to see if there were any changes needed in the lease agreement and draft a new one.

Representatives of Four Rivers submitted their budget request for 2020 along with data on the services they provide to the county. They have been approved for $2,000 in the past however the commissioners said they would increase the request this year to try and get Four Rivers $2,500.

The commissioners approved the highway department to now take over maintenance of Sawmill Ridge Road. The developers had made the request several months ago. Highway Superintendent Leo Padgett said he has inspected the road and it meets county specs and he has no issue taking over the road. All the property owners on the road are also in favor.

to receive more reimbursement money for the past eight quarters, which is as far back as the state is willing to go. She is unsure how much money they will be getting as they are still working to get the paperwork in order.

The council approved an additional appropriation of $11,000 for the coroner's office for autopsies for the rest of the year and $1,097 for the judge for salaries, which was already in the circuit court funds but overlooked at last year's budget time.

The council approved a transfer of $12,000 for the sheriff's department to the lights and sirens fund to prep the new police vehicles. Council Member Buck Stiles voted against the transfer but offered no reason why. They also approved a transfer in the auditor's budget for $300 from travel to computers so the auditor's office could replace the front desk computer that continues to freeze up. The auditor told the council that she will need an additional appropriation for another new computer in the future due to Microsoft no longer supporting Windows 2007 which is what the computer runs.

The auditor also asked the council's permission to look into combining the courthouse's phone and internet companies. She said every office currently has a different provider, including RTC, Frontier and NewWave. She would like to see about getting one company to provide all services to make things more efficient. She also noted that her office only has one incoming line and if she is on a support call, sometimes for over an hour, no one can reach her office via phone which has caused complaints. The council noted that they believe combining services has been attempted in the past however told the auditor she was welcome to try again.

The auditor told the council that the state is moving up deadlines for budgets and are suggesting that budget adoptions be held earlier. Typically, budget hearings are held in September with adoption in October. After discussion, the council tentatively decided to do budget hearings on August 4 and 5, starting at 8:30 a.m. and then do the 2020 budget adoption at their September 9 meeting.

Council Member Warren Albright was not present for the meeting.

DRIVERS NEEDED for the veterans' van. I am aware that we all have very busy lives and very little free time which is why I am looking for reliable drivers to add to my call list. I am looking for VOLUNTEERS that are willing to transport a veteran possibly one trip a week to medical appointments at VA hospital and clinics in the surrounding area. This is not a paid position. You must have an Indiana license and a clean driving record. If interested, please contact me.

The veterans' van only transports to appointments at VA hospitals and clinics. You must contact me for transportation needs. Do NOT contact the driver's directly, they do not have the van schedule. The veterans' van is not a part of the DAV program, it is funded by Martin County taxpayers so we only transport Martin County residents.

Lady Lions bow out at Semi-State

BY GREG CLARK
LHS Head Softball Coach

Loogootee made the short trip up to North Daviess for the Semi-State and found the road blocked with Lady Senators, West Washington Lady Senators that is. Due to a mandate by the IHSAA to accommodate the Covenant Christian team, Loogootee had to give up its favored first game and play the second game of the day. West Washington won the game, 5-1.

Following a slight delay, the high noon game got underway with Loogootee as the home team. West Washington opened the game with a slap single to center field. The next batter dropped a bunt to move the runner and the ensuring play kind of sealed the fate for the Lady Lions this day. As the ball is picked up and the runner is on her way to first, second baseman, Isabelle Waggner moves to cover first, and the runner contacts Waggner. Isabelle drops to the ground and suffers an injury and is removed from the game and is taken to the hospital.

West Washington goes on to score three runs in the inning, and adds two more in the third inning, while the Lady Lions, who are averaging double digits in hits every game, bats remain silent. Loogootee did not pick up its first hit until the sixth inning, when after a lead-off walk to Sydney Davis, Tyanna Graber and Adie Nolley both single, with Davis scoring on the Nolley single.

Loogootee has three Seniors that move on after this game. Sydney Davis, pitcher/second baseman, Calli Winger, center fielder; Tyanna Graber, catcher/shortstop/outfielder are the Seniors that will be missed greatly as these three have led the Lady Lions to 77 victories over their four years. Calli will be attending Indiana University and is the daughter of Randy and Vicki Winger. Sydney is the daughter of Travis and Angel Davis and will be attending Oakland City University and will be playing softball for the Mighty Oaks. Tyanna Graber is the daughter of Stuart (Tony) and Angie Graber and will be attending Lake Land College and will be playing softball. Best wishes to these three graduates!

Lady Lions win Regional

BY GREG CLARK
LHS Head Softball Coach

Although the NE Dubois Lady Jeeps scored first, Loogootee quickly tied the game up with an Adie Nolley solo home run, and scored six more runs to earn their first Regional title since 2012, 7-2 over the host Lady Jeeps. Sydney Davis started in the circle for the Lady Lions and picked up the win. Isabelle Waggner came on in the fifth and earned the save.

NE Dubois scored a run in the bottom of the first. Rebecca Brosmen was hit by a pitch and scored on a deep double in the left field gap by Hailey Fuhrman. The Lady Jeeps also scored a run in the fourth when Cameron Stemle drew a leadoff walk, moved to second on a sac bunt, and scored when the single by Royer was mishandled.

Loogootee scored a run in the second off of an Adie Nolley solo shot and added three more in the third inning when Sydney Davis delivered a two out single. Tyanna Graber followed up with a two tun home run. Adie Nolley was hit by a pitch and moved to third on a Makenzie VanHoy double to left. Calli Winger singled home Nolley for the third run of the third. In the fifth inning, Sydney Davis led off with a single. Tyanna Graber also singled to move Davis to second base. Then with two outs and Graber on second base, Makenzie VanHoy launched a home run of her own deep over the left field fence for two more Loogootee runs. In the seventh, Adie Nolley hit another home run to push the Lady Lions led to five runs.

With one out, the Lady Jeeps did load the bases with three straight contact singles, but Waggner worked out of the jam by getting a pop up to short, and striking out the next batter to preserve the 7-2 win for the Lady Lions.

Loogootee Fifth Grade participate in I LEAD

The Loogootee fifth graders recently concluded their participation in I LEAD (formerly known as Project L.E. A.D.) by participating in a mock trial held in the courtroom of the Martin Circuit Court. Judge Lynne Ellis presided over the events of the day. In conjunction with the mock trial, the students toured the Martin County Security Center. I LEAD is a special curriculum sponsored by the Martin County Probation Department. This was the 25th year the program has been taught to Martin County youth. This year's program was conducted by Chief Probation Officer Lisa Brittain with assistance from Probation Officer Melissa Lottes along with fifth-grade teachers, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Knepp, and Mrs. Brookshire.

The program was designed to teach fifth graders about the law, the need for laws, and the legal system with emphasis on the juvenile justice system. In addition, the program emphasized decision-making and the consequences of their actions.

The program combined classroom work, hands-on experiences, and speakers from various agencies. The following persons volunteered their time by speaking with the students about various law enforcement-related topics: Judge Lynne Ellis, Sheriff Travis Roush, Prosecutor Aureola Wright, State Trooper Andrew Beaver, Excise Police Officer Brian Stewart, Aaron Hembree with Loogootee Marathon, C. Michael Steiner, Deputy Prosecutor of Lawrence County, and Kathy Collins, Martin County Community Corrections.

As a part of the program, students were asked to submit drawings/logos for a new I LEAD t-shirt. Each student was provided a t-shirt with the winning logo. This year's design winner was Cora Consley. In addition, each student was required to submit an essay regarding their I LEAD experience. The essay winners are as follows: Owen Tompkins, 1st place boys; Cami Crays 1st place girls; Evan Williams, 2nd place boys; and Marley McAtee, 2nd place girls. Chief Probation Officer Lisa Brittain presented the winners with a certificate and prize sponsored by the program's financial supporter.

Project I L.E.A.D. received financial support the Martin County Probation Department. Organizers would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the students for their participation as well as the speakers and fifth grade teachers for their help in administering this program.

How the I Lead Program Has Influenced My Life

This year my class had a wonderful opportunity to have the "I Lead" program. I Lead means Legal Education to Arrest Delinquency. This program was presented by Lisa Brittain.

During this program we had many guest speakers. My favorite speaker (See 'I LEAD' on page 9) was Judge Ellis. Judge Ellis was an amazing guest speaker because her job is so interesting. I loved hearing how she tries to be firm, but fair. I loved how she demands respect in her courtroom. Now I want to become a judge myself.

This program is really cool because not only did we learn about drugs and alcohol, but we also learned how to protect our future. It all comes down to making good choices and not getting pressured or being dumb enough to do what might sound like fun at the time.

Every Friday we had a new guest speaker with a new job and a personality that demonstrates the passion they have for making a difference. So, that made each time better and better.

What makes this program even better is that at the end of the year we are having a mock trial! I am going to be the judge!

I want to say "thank you" for everyone who has donated their time and energy to help us to protect our future.

How The I LEAD Program Has Influenced My Life

My class was fortunate enough to have the I LEAD (Legal Education To Arrest Delinquency) program presented by Lisa Brittain. It has influenced me to always make good and well thought out decisions. It has taught me that one bad decision, can have major consequence. It has changed the way I make decisions and know it will LEAD me down a good path in life.

It has also taught me about the court systems, attorneys, prosecutors, and judges. We also did a mock trial, giving us the feel for what a real trial would be like. Some other people taught us to make good choices and have taught us about the legal and court system such as, Aureola Wright, Trooper Beaver, Judge Lynne E. Ellis, Mike Steiner, Brian Stewart, Aaron Hembree, and Kathy Collins. Thank you for teaching me about the legal and court system and how to make good choices!

I will think before I act and accomplish my dreams and goals!

No secrets, Lady Lions best Barr-Reeve

BY GREG CLARK

LHS Head Softball Coach

For five innings Monday night, Barr-Reeve had Loogootee's number, then, all hits broke loose. Nine hits in fact, over the last two innings, to propel the Lady Lions into the Sectional 63 Championship game with a 5-3 win over the Barr-Reeve Lady Vikings.

The first five innings were all Barr-Reeve as they scored three runs on four Loogootee errors, two doubles, five singles and one walk. However, it was the Lady Lions bats that would get the last word. The sixth inning saw Sydney Davis lead off the inning with a base hit up the middle. Barr-Reeve faithful, and pitcher Hannah Graber, breathed a sigh of relief as she got Loogootee's perennial power hitter, Tyanna Graber, to fly out to deep center field. But the out did not stop the Loogootee hitters from banging out hit after hit. Adie Nolley drove a hard single up the middle, then Makenzie VanHoy drilled one between through I Lead. I Lead stands for Legal Education to Arrest Delinquency. My fifth grade class has learned a lot through I LEAD. Judge Ellis came in to talk to us about making good choices. Mike Steiner also came to talk to us, and all these other amazing people came to get us to think about making good choices. I want to say thank you to all the people who came and took time out of their day. They really made an impact on my life.

Mike Steiner told us a great story about why to not drink and drive. It can really affect your life and other families. I can use this in my own life one day if I am ever in a situation to drink and drive. I will think back to this story and remind myself not to be selfish and take a chance on destroying innocent peoples' lives or my own.

I think I LEAD is a great program because it talks about drugs and why you need to make good decision in your life. If you don't, then you might live to regret it. I can't thank Lisa Brittain enough for putting this program together for my grade and talking about making good decisions and looking out for us.

I am so excited about the mock trial. We are going to have so much fun and I am really looking forward to being a prosecutor and learning a lot.

Second Place Boy Winner

Evan Williams

The ILEAD program has taught me to make great choices for my future. The ILEAD program has also really made me want to make good choices in my future so, that I can have a better future for myself and other people.

It has made me want to do this because if I do make good choices, I will have a great life. But if I make bad choices it will lead to bad consequences in my life, like going to jail, house arrest, or even probation. The speaker that made me want to have a better future is Mike Steiner. He has really made an impact in my life and in my thinking. He made me think about drunk driving and that it will eventually put you in prison or even worse, severely injure you or another person or, kill you or another person. He has made me learn that making bad choices is very bad.

The ILEAD program did an amazing job of teaching me how to make good choices for my future and, I really want to thank them for doing this for us third and short. Calli Wininger flew out to left field, just deep enough to score Sydney Davis from third. A pair of two out singles from Jaelyn Walker and Isabelle Waggner sent Sara Street (running for Nolley) and VanHoy home to tie the game at 3-3 heading into the bottom of the sixth.

The Barr-Reeve sixth inning saw them get a hit by Schwartz, a seeing eye single up the middle, but that was not enough to maintain any momentum they had going. The Loogootee seventh saw four two out singles in a row from Tyanna Graber, Adie Nolley, Makenzie VanHoy and Calli Wininger to score Graber and Street, again in to run for Nolley.

This put the Lady Lions up 5-3 with Barr-Reeve coming to the plate. A quick line out and ground out, followed by a base on balls to Viking hurler Hannah Graber, and then the final out punched Loogootee's ticket into the Sectional 63 Championship Game with North Daviess.

It is time to do the Chelsea Chop. No, that is not some garden dance craze, but it is an important gardening activity in this time between Memorial Day and the Fourth of July. So, named because the acclaimed Chelsea Flower Show in England is held in late May, the Chelsea Chop makes many perennials last longer and stand better.

There are actually a couple of ways to do the Chelsea Chop, depending on your garden desires. You may cut back the whole clump of the chosen perennial, which means it will bloom later, but that it will grow bushier and less likely to splay and fall over just when it should be at its peak. You may cut the clump back by one-third to one-half. It may make you feel a little queasy and the immediate result may not look great, but it really will make for a better garden later in the summer.

If you want to make the bloom season longer, you may accomplish that with a modified Chelsea Chop. You may cut back just part of the stems of a perennial clump. The ones you cut will have delayed blooms, while the ones you leave will bloom at the regular time. If you have several clumps of the same plant, you may further lengthen the bloom period by doing the Chelsea Chop on different clumps each week until the Fourth of July.

Not all plants are candidates for the Chelsea Chop. Cutting off some plants will result in cutting off the blooms for the year. Among the candidates for this technique are garden phlox, mums, coneflowers, yarrow, asters, black-eyed Susans, penstemons, heleniums (sneezeweed), Shasta daisy, goldenrod, iron weed, evening primrose, Joe Pye weed and upright sedums.

For some of these plants, the Chelsea Chop offers an opportunity to increase the number of plants in your garden. The

UPDATE: Oak threat in Indiana expands statewide

The Indiana Department of Natural Resources (DNR) confirmed more than 70 Walmart stores and 18 Rural King stores in the state have received rhododendron plants infected with sudden oak death (SOD), a fungal pathogen that kills oak trees. Shipments containing infested material were sent to nine other states as well.

Workers from the Department of Entomology & Plant Pathology have been visiting stores across Indiana to destroy any stock that has been found infested and quarantine any stock that is symptomatic. The division has made this its top priority. The DNR has destroyed approximately 1,500 infested rhododendron so far and pulled another 1,500 from stores. The DNR has also ordered these stores to stop selling rhododendron until further notice. Any quarantined material not infested will be released following testing at Purdue University. The DNR is also following up with homeowners that have called in to say they've purchased material that they believe is infested or are seeing signs/symptoms of sick trees in the environment. SOD has killed large tracts of oaks on the West Coast. SOD has not been established in the Midwest, to date. SOD can kill standing oak trees, which could happen if SOD-positive rhododendron were planted within about 6 feet of a standing oak.

cuttings taken from sedums, mums and phlox will root in moist potting medium. Remember, it is illegal to use this method to reproduce any patented cultivars, but if you are growing the species plant, you may produce new plants for your garden or to share with others.

While it takes some daring to make the cuts on healthy-looking plants, the end result will be sturdier plants with more blooms. The chop causes the plant to produce multiple stems to replace what is removed, so there are more buds produced. The effects of the Chelsea Chop will improve the garden well into autumn.

I have been hearing many complaints that the wet weather this spring has prevented many vegetable gardens from being plowed. There is still plenty of time to put in a garden, but the harvest will be delayed. You may need to choose to wait and plant some of the traditional spring crops later in the summer to harvest in the cooler days of autumn.

Others may choose to plant in containers. It is not too late to construct raised beds or to assemble containers into which a garden may be planted. Make sure the container will hold enough soil to support the plants you want to grow. Drainage is very important. Make sure your container has adequate drainage and use a potting mix that contains perlite or some other coarse inert material to keep the plants from rotting. One of the advantages of raised beds and containers is the ability to control the soil fertility. It is easier to fertilize a container than a large garden, so the effects of the fertilizer go directly to the desired plants. This also allows plants to grow much closer together than using traditional methods. Use that space wisely. Basil may be grown right around the tomato whose fruits will be matched with that basil in the kitchen. Planning now will save time at harvest.

species of host plant material. It causes some browning of the leaves in the host but does not kill it. For a list of those plants see the following https://www.aphis.usda.gov/plant_health/plant_pest_info/pram/downloads/pdf_files/usdaprlst.pdf

If you have purchased rhododendrons in the last four weeks from Walmart or Rural King, destroy them, or call 1-866-NO-EXOTIC (663-9684) or the local county extension office at 1-888-EXT-INFO (1-888-398-4636) for instructions. Help DNR count wild turkeys this summer

Each summer, wildlife biologists and citizen scientists count the number of young wild turkeys (poults) with turkey hens in what are termed "brood surveys." These surveys provide the DNR with information about turkey poult survival and help staff determine how to best manage wild turkey.

This summer, their goal is to collect 3,000 brood observation reports from citizens across the state. The survey runs from July 1 to August 31.

If you are interested in participating, please register after June 10 at <https://www.in.gov/dnr/fishwild/8641.htm>.

Boxwood blight discovered at Home Depot stores

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has been made aware of a shipment of boxwood plants at Home Depot stores that contain the boxwood blight fungus. They have originated from a nursery named Cottage Gardens in Ohio.

Boxwood blight (Calonectria pseudonaviculata) is a fungal disease that infests members of the popular Buxaceae family and is often transported through the nursery trade. Hosts include Buxus (boxwood), Pachysandra (Japanese spurge) and Sarcococca (sweetbox). Annual inspections of nursery stock by the DNR verify that this pathogen is not indigenous to Indiana, nor can it be found in nursery stock that is sourced locally.

When the fungus, which can lay dormant in drier conditions, is present, it can be found on all above-ground portions of the plant and presents itself as dark leaf spots. It causes rapid defoliation, which typically starts on the bottom of the plant and moves toward the top. This fungal pathogen can move through sporulation in water and from dropped leaves. As a result, infection can spread to surrounding plants from a single infected plant.

The infected nursery stock is currently being pulled from shelves in 13 Home Depot stores by nursery inspectors and Cottage Garden representatives and will be disposed of in a manner that will prevent the pathogen from spreading to other stock. There are several varieties of boxwood sold in Home Depot stores. The only species that is currently testing positive for the fungus is Korean boxwood (Buxus Koreana), however the DNR is testing other species to ensure the pathogen has not spread. If you have purchased a Korean boxwood from a Home Depot store in the last month, please contact the DNR for further guidance at 866-NO EXOTIC.

Safety should be priority before recreating on or near water

Regardless of why you are around bodies of water, you should always recognize the danger water poses, even to strong swimmers or experienced boaters. If you are going to be recreating around the water, please remember these basic safety tips:

- Always wear your lifejacket
- Always tell someone where you are going and when you will return
- Go with a buddy
- Never venture around flooded or fast-moving waterways

-Avoid alcohol

In addition to basic water safety, Indiana Conservation Officers are also stressing the importance of boating safety and are reminding boaters to know the rules of the water.

Reducing the boat's speed in unfamiliar areas and being aware of unusual water conditions respective to the size and type of boat are among the important environmental considerations. Regardless of boat type, an initial assessment of the water levels and current speed are essential prior to beginning your voyage.

Designating a sober boat operator should always be a priority. Alcohol causes impaired balance, blurred vision, poor coordination, impaired judgement, and slower reaction time. These impairments can be magnified by wave action, sun exposure, and wind. It is illegal to operate a motorboat or personal watercraft in Indiana while intoxicated due to alcohol or drugs. Indiana law defines intoxication as having a blood alcohol level of 0.08% or greater.

Another priority is lifejackets. Lifejackets should be United States Coast Guard approved, be in good working condition, and size appropriate. New lifejackets are designed to be lighter, less obtrusive, and more comfortable. Inflatable lifejackets allow mobility and flexibility for activities like boating, fishing, or paddling, and are much cooler in warmer weather.

"A person is never too old to wear a lifejacket," said Lt. Kenton Turner, Indiana's Boating Law Administrator. "The majority of Indiana drownings on public waterways involve adults."

DNR seeks public input

The DNR Division of Historic Preservation & Archaeology (DHPA) is conducting an online survey to gather public input regarding upcoming projects and initiatives.

Indiana's Cultural Resources Management Plan is a comprehensive state plan that guides local preservationists, DNR staff, and everyday citizens in their efforts to preserve Indiana's wide variety of heritage resources, such as historic downtowns and neighborhoods, bridges, cemeteries, schools, round barns, theaters, rural communities and landscapes, and archaeological sites. DHPA is currently revising its plan for 2020-2026.

Feedback from constituents helps ensure that DHPA's preservation programs, commitment of staff resources, and expenditure of federal funds are responsive to the needs of communities all across Indiana.

Access the survey online at dnr.IN.gov/historic/10147.htm. Those without Internet access can connect to the survey at any public library, or they can request that a paper copy be mailed to them by calling Steve Kennedy at 317-232-6981. Completed survey forms must be returned to the DHPA by June 30.

Farmer sentiment hits lowest level in over two years

BY KAMI GOODWIN

Purdue University News Service

Ag producer sentiment dropped to its lowest level since October 2016, erasing all improvements recorded following the November 2016 election. The Purdue University/CME Group Ag Economy Barometer, based on a mid-month survey of 400 agricultural producers across the U.S., declined 14 points in May to a reading of 101, down from 115 in April.

The decline in the barometer came about because producers' perspectives on both current and future economic conditions worsened considerably compared to a month earlier. The Index of Current Conditions fell to a reading of 84, down from 99, and the Index of Future Expectations fell to 108, down from 123.

"Ag producers are telling us the agricultural economy weakened considerably this spring as the barometer has fallen 42 points (29 percent) since the start of this year," said James Mintert, the barometer's principal investigator and director of Purdue University's Center for Commercial Agriculture. "Farmers are facing tough decisions in the midst of a wet planting season and a lot of uncertainty surrounding trade discussions."

The Large Farm Investment Index, which measures producers' attitudes toward making large investments in their farming operation, has ebbed and flowed over the past year; however, since the beginning of 2019, the index has trended significantly lower. In May, just 18 percent of farmers stated it was a "good time" to make large farm investments while 81 percent stated it was a "bad time," pushing the investment index down to a reading of 37. This is the lowest Large Farm Investment Index reading since the Ag Economy Barometer's October 2015 inception.

Farmers' optimism toward short- and long-term farmland values has also waned since the early part of 2019. For example, the percentage of farmers that expect farmland values to decline over the course of the upcoming year jumped from 21 percent in January to 25 percent in March and most recently to 30 percent in May. Looking farther ahead, just 39 percent of producers said they expect farmland values to rise over the next five years, compared to 48 percent expecting rising values in the March survey.

Agricultural trade continues to be a source of concern for producers. For the past three months, producers were asked whether they expect the soybean trade dispute with China to be resolved by July 1 and whether they feel the resolution will benefit U.S. agriculture. When the question was first posed in March, 45 percent of respondents expected the dispute to be resolved by July 1; that number declined to 28 percent in April and fell further to 20 percent in May. Regarding whether they ultimately expect an outcome favorable to U.S. agriculture, 77 percent said yes in March, which declined to 71 percent in April, and fell further to 65 percent in May.

"At this time, a majority of producers still expect a favorable outcome for agriculture to the trade dispute," said Mintert, "but that majority appears to be shrinking."

This month's report includes more information about each of the survey questions, as well as a look into farmers' perceptions toward their equity positions. The site also offers additional resources – such as past reports, charts and survey methodology – and a form to sign up for monthly barometer email updates and webinars. Each month, Dr. Mintert also provides an in-depth video analysis of the barometer, available at <https://purdue.ag/barometervideo>.

Hummingbirds

Hummingbirds are the smallest migrating bird. They don't migrate in flocks like other species, and they typically travel alone for up to 500 miles at a time. Hummingbirds drink the nectar found in feeders by moving their tongue in and out about 13 times per second. They can consume up to double their body weight in a day. The average weight of a hummingbird is less than a nickel.
