

A Call to Circle

Circlework is a woman's way of knowing. It's about lost stories, hidden stories, stories that long to be lived or re-written.

It's about being witnessed in the story we carry and held when our story needs to change.

We not only need great change in our world, we need to shift how we bring about that change. We can do this - woman to woman, heart to heart.

We begin with 13 weeks of experiential learning around how to be in circle. We'll explore 13 cross-cultural expressions of the deep feminine and through those stories, connect with and, if desired, transform our own personal stories.

"2018 is a year of elemental shift from Yang to Yin escalating the unstoppable collective emergence of the deep feminine."

~Lorna Bevin

"Circlework is the Practice of Love. Today, that is the only power that can help us heal our planet."

~ Jalaja Bonheim, PhD

This is a phone circle connecting women across the nation through weekly calls facilitated by Coleen Rhalena Renee, CSH. Call times will be decided by the group. Call will be up to 90 minutes each week.

Each circle is limited to 12 women to give us time for deep personal sharing. After the initial 13 weeks the circle may continue as a co-facilitated group circle.

My dearest hope is that new circles will sprout from this circle. To encourage that, I offer a friend discount. Join the Call to Circle with 1 or 2 friends and you each save $100 off the $260 fee. Must be registered by January 20th.

To register, email Coleen@ColeenRenee.com with weekly time availability.

For questions, you can also call or text her at 509-312-0220. May also FB message me.
