Lytton First Nation Community Ratification Process

NOTICE of Vote Extension

Purpose

The purpose of this note is to notify Lytton First Nation members that the land code ratification vote has been extended to December 9, 2023. In person advanced polling days on October 19, 20, and 21 will continue as scheduled.

Member Concerns Result Changes to the LFN Land Code Vote

The vote extension is in response to two concerns raised by some LFN voting members.

1. More time is needed to learn about the LFN Land Code before voting; and
2. Full versions of the Land Code and the Individual Agreement were expected in the mail packages as opposed to the summaries of those two documents.

More Time to Ask Questions and Vote

In response to member concerns we are adding an additional day of in-person voting. Online votes and mail-in ballots will continue to be accepted until the close of the poll on the additional day of voting.

Details of the additional day of voting are:

Date: December 9th, 2023
Time: 9am to 8pm
Location: Battlefield Community Centre
St. Georges Road
Lytton, BC

Where to Get Full Versions of the Documents

Only the summaries of the land code and individual agreement were included in the original mail information packages for the following reasons:

- A) Full versions of the documents have been and will continue to be available to everyone at the LFN office, online at www.lfnlandcode.com, at community meetings, available by request to the ratification officer, and by mail on request.
- B) Members reminded us that the environmental impact and cost of printing and mailing big documents is huge and they want to minimize the impact of these activities. Despite that desire, we are going to mail full copies of the land code and individual agreement to every eligible voter as per the verified community ratification process.
