

Income of Non-Resident Spouse or Common-Law Partner for the Canada child benefits

Do you have to fill out this form?

Fill out this form every year if both of the following situations apply:

- you are receiving the Canada child benefit
- your spouse or common-law partner was a non-resident of Canada

Generally, your spouse or common-law partner is considered to have been a non-resident of Canada in a given year if they normally lived in another country and were not considered a resident of Canada for tax purposes. For more information, see Guide T4058, Non-Residents and Income Tax.

Fill out this form even if your spouse or common-law partner had no income.
