

Marital Status Change

Do not use this area.

Use this form to tell us of a change in your marital status. You can also change your marital status using MyCRA or MyBenefits CRA mobile app at cra.gc.ca/mobileapps, My Account at cra.gc.ca/myaccount, or by calling 1-800-387-1193. In some situations, you may be eligible for additional child and family benefits. For more information, see the back of this form.

You must tell us by the end of the month following the month in which your status changed. However, do not tell us of your separation until you have been separated for more than 90 consecutive days.

General information

Has your marital status changed?

When we get notification of your change in marital status, we will recalculate your child and family benefits taking into consideration the following:

- your new marital status;
- your new adjusted family net income; and
- your province or territory of residence.

Note

You cannot use this form to notify us of a correction to a previously reported marital status change. These updates must be sent in writing to your tax centre.

When will your payments be adjusted?

Your Canada child benefit (CCB) and/or goods and services tax/harmonized sales tax (GST/HST) credit payments will be adjusted the month following the month that your marital status changed.

For more information about the CCB, go to canada.ca/canada-child-benefit or see Booklet T4114, Canada Child Benefits.

For more information about the GST/HST credit, go to cra.gc.ca/gsthstcredit or see Guide RC4210, GST/HST Credit.

Direct deposit

Direct deposit is a fast, convenient, reliable, and secure way to get your CRA payments directly into your account at a financial institution in Canada. To sign up for direct deposit or to update your banking information, go to cra.gc.ca/directdeposit.

Definitions

Common-law partner – This applies to a person who is not your spouse, with whom you are in a conjugal relationship, and to whom one of the following situations applies. They:

- have been living with you for at least 12 continuous months;

Note

In this definition, 12 continuous months includes any period you were separated for less than 90 days because of a breakdown in your relationship.

- are the parent of your child by birth or adoption; or
- have custody and control of your child (or had custody and control immediately before the child turned 19 years of age) and your child is wholly dependent on that person for support.

Separated – You are separated when you start living separate and apart from your spouse or common-law partner because of a breakdown in the relationship for a period of at least 90 days and you have not reconciled.

Once you have been separated for 90 days (because of a breakdown in the relationship), the effective day of your separated status is the day you started living separate and apart.

Note

You would still be considered to have a spouse or common-law partner if there is no breakdown in the relationship and you were living apart for reasons such as:

- work;
- studies; or
- health problems.

Spouse – This applies only to a person to whom you are legally married.
