About Us

ELEV8IN is a fully immersive creative design, and digital marketing agency focused on innovation, excellence, and delivering results for our clients. We unite the best professional minds under one full-service banner. We do it all, including innovative digital solutions, branding, creative design, development, strategy, and online marketing.

We do agency differently!

We don't believe in one size fits all templates or easy answers and won't look for shortcuts or create fad-based strategies.

Every project, regardless of size, scope and length, requires a holistic and consistent creative vision with the careful steering of development through the messaging and information process and ensuring all communication stays on-tone and on-target.

Our extensive industry network allows Elev8In to enforce and nurture complete brand consistency and project integrity from the very beginning to the last signature.

At Elev8In, together with our partners, we help build brand awareness, grow your business, engage with your customers, and sell the experience. Creativity is the key to unlocking ideas, delivering results, and increasing returns. We offer a full suite of creative services ELEV8IN is a fully immersive creative design and digital marketing agency focused on innovation, excellence, and delivering results for our clients. Reducing emissions

Most Electric scooters are powered by a single battery or multiple batteries. Cars on the other hand are powered by fuel. According to the United States Environment protection agency "a typical passenger vehicle emits about 4.6 metrics tons of carbon dioxide per year". Compare that to an electric vehicle. There are no carbon dioxide emissions when operating an electric scooter. Greenhouse ga...

Minimizing traffic congestion

Commuters that travel short distances will avoid using their own vehicle. Using electric scooters will reduce the number of cars on the road, therefore reducing traffic congestion. Riders using electric scooters can navigate the city with ease and potentially explore shortcuts that regular cars cannot. Paying your local store a visit with an electric scooter to run an errand is more convenient and cheaper than using rideshare.

ABOUT JILID

Here at Jilid, nothing is more important to us than bringing premium leather products to the market – and with every last product, you can count on handmade quality produced by real, passionate, and dedicated artisans. This isn't just leather – it's handmade leather.

Jilid is based in Doha, Qatar, and was founded in 2020 with a mission to provide the very best quality handmade leather products in the world. In a world where more than 99% of leather products are machine-made, we wanted to bring a new element to the table for leather lovers from around the world. We learned from the old and ancient techniques, where traditions resulted in premium leather products that contained more character, more identity, and more strength than contemporary machine-made products.

And with every last product that we have to offer, you can trust in long-lasting quality that can stay in your family for generations.
