Our History

The Oldest Schoolhouse, also known as the Patterson-Baldwin House, was moved to its current location in 1847 by Alexander Patterson and is one of the oldest surviving structures in Key West. The occupant's sister, Madame Passalogue began conducting classes until 1860 when the building was purchased by John P. Baldwin whose 3 daughters were school teachers.

Established in 1957 Knight & Gardner Realty is the oldest real estate company in Key West and has been a leader and pioneer of residential and commercial real estate in the Florida Keys and Key West for almost 62 years. In March of 2015, the firm, under the same ownership for decades, reached a franchise agreement with the new Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Franchise which is directly owned and operated by Warren Buffett's holding company, Berkshire Hathaway. With over 40 residential and commercial real estate professionals on our team and a local, national and international presence we can assist you with any sale, rental, or transient property need.
