2019 POA DUES

INVOICES FOR 2019 WBPOA DUES WILL BE MAILED OUT SOON. For the POA to best serve the community and properly maintain our amenities, POA dues are to be paid promptly. Non-payment of dues severely impacts our community, as we cannot maintain the common areas, clubhouses, parks, pool and tennis court without your dues. Therefore, non-payment of dues will restrict your use of community amenities as it is not right to allow usage if you are not paying for the upkeep. The invoices were mailed in November 2017. If for any reason you did not receive your notice, contact Sterling ASI as soon as possible at (832) 678-4500 and ask for Roxanne, Amy or anyone at Sterling, who will be more than happy to assist you. See box below for more helpful details.

POA DUES – ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Payment coupons are included with the invoice for your POA dues to be paid in advance. Those coupons are not an agreement to enter into a payment plan, but there is a payment plan option. However, you MUST notify the management company that you are selecting this option before January 2019 by sending in your first payment by the date specified on the coupon. If for any reason you cannot make payments by end of January 2019, please contact Sterling or your POA Board AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, as it is imperative that the HOA receives payments so as to stay in line with the 2019 Budget. Should you lose the payment coupon, you are welcome to mail your payment to the following:

West Bellfort POA c/o Sterling ASI PO Box 38113 Houston, Texas 77238-8113

Please specify the property address you are making payment for in the memo line of the check; alternatively, you are welcome to include a separate piece of paper with the address and any other particulars to ensure your payment is properly applied.

Volunteers Needed to Serve as Block Captains

Block Captains are residents who volunteer their time and efforts to The community to serve as "point persons" between the residents, the POA Board, its committees and The property management team.

You will not be asked to do anything that puts yourself in harm's way. The time involved is minimal. By serving as the "eyes and ears" of The community, you will play a big part in keeping it safe, friendly and beautiful. You can even "co-share" and team up with a neighbor. If you have an interest in serving as a Block Captain, please contact any of the Board members or Roxanne Martinez of Sterling Management, or attend the upcoming Board Meeting on Tuesday, October 23, 2018 at 6:30pm.

THE IMPORTANCE OF CURB APPEAL

Your home is one of the most major investments you will make in your lifetime. Maintaining a home from the inside out is critically important to retaining its value over time. The more mature your home becomes, the more important it is to maintain it. This applies to your curb appeal as well.

Curb appeal is very important, not just for the appearance of your home, but for the entire neighborhood. Keeping up the appearance of the exterior of your home may not be as exciting as decorating the interior, but in many ways it is much more important. If a majority of the homes in the neighborhood are allowed to fall into poor condition, this screams "we don't care about our homes".

Attached to this newsletter is some further information about curb appeal. It should start with the condition of your house, the grass, landscaping, plants, fencing, etc. Little things like keeping bins out of sight, cleaning leaves out of the gutters, power-washing mold and fungus off the bricks or hosing the driveway may seem insignificant, but it all adds up to an attractive, well-kept appearance. Things like loud exterior paint colors, broken down cars, piles of trash, boats in driveway, falling gutters, broken fences can make your house look trashy and ill-maintained... and makes the entire neighborhood look trashy and ill-maintained. Worn down houses invite things like rodents, snakes and .... crime!

Your POA Board is charged with protecting the overall value and appearance of the neighborhood. Their duty is to ensure all homeowners follow the deed restrictions. The Board and property management company are not being "mean" by enforcing the rules and regulations - they are doing it because they care about the community and wish to protect not only your home values, but our neighbors as well. A poorly maintained community is a magnet for the criminal element. So by simply maintaining your home, inside and out, you are actively participating in maintaining your home value, the overall home values in the neighborhood and helping to reduce crime. Therefore, please do your part by respecting the rules and regulations of WBPOA. REMINDER: any improvements or major exterior work to your home (front and back) including painting, landscaping, etc. must be approved by the ARC Committee. The ARC Committee approval form is located at the back of this newsletter.

Treatment Assistance Fund

Susan G. Komen® Houston is proud to offer assistance to those struggling with the financial burden of breast cancer treatment through the Komen Houston Treatment Assistance Program. This program bridges the gap for underserved individuals who are actively undergoing breast cancer treatment. With this program, we aim to help those who are facing financial challenges by providing limited financial assistance, education and support services to low-income, underinsured or uninsured breast cancer patients throughout the Komen Houston service area.

Financial assistance is available for breast cancer treatment expenses such as oral pain medication, anti-nausea medication, oral chemotherapy/hormone therapy, child care/elder care, transportation to and from treatment, lymphedema care and supplies and durable medical equipment.

Funding through this program helps patients of any age who have been diagnosed with breast cancer, at any stage of the disease. Financial assistance is granted to patients who meet predetermined eligibility criteria. #### MASSIVE FOOD MARKET PROJECT COMING SOON!

Excerpts from article by Jen Para, Houston Business Journal, July 20, 2018

Downtown Houston has several food halls underway, but a new food market project — similar to Reading Terminal Market in Philadelphia and Chelsea Market in New York City — is planned for the western edge of the 610 Loop.

Railway Heights Market is expected to open in 2019 at 8200 Washington Avenue. The project will not only have a 40,000-square-foot warehouse filled with vendors selling food, art, jewelry and more, but plans also call for a half-acre of green space and a 13,000-square-food beer garden — and that's just phase one.

Railway Heights describes its tenants as such: "Many of the Market's stallholders are themselves producers: the farmer who reared the animal, the fisherman who caught the fish, the baker who baked the bread." It also states that there will be stalls selling vintage clothing, handmade jewelry, artwork and a wide selection of cuisines. Live music is also expected.

In total, the project will encompass 3.6 acres. The land is just north of Interstate 10 and Memorial Park Golf Course and near the Lazybrook/Timbergrove neighborhood. The property was the former home to an Oriental rug store, and Sugar Creek Interiors' design studio. The Boneyard, a bar and dog park, was also previously located there.

Plans for phase two are still in the development stage; the Railway Height's website shows the potential for container apartments, or micro-units built out of containers. The project is also expected to house a motorized parking garage for 600 cars.

Four other food halls — in addition to the already opened Prohibition Supperclub & Bar and Conservatory — will soon debut in Houston's downtown area:

- Bravery Chef Hall, which is projected to open this fall, is located inside the Aris Market Square luxury high-rise at 409 Travis St.
- Lyric Market, which is projected to open this fall, is located on the ground floor of the new Lyric Centre parking garage at 411 Smith St.
- Finn Hall, which is projected to open in mid-2018, is located at The Jones on Main's JPMorgan Chase & Co. Building at 712 Main St.
- Skanska USA Commercial Development's new 35-story Capitol Tower at 811 Rusk St. will also open "a culinary market with fresh chef-driven concepts" when it completes construction in 2019.

LEARN LIFESAVINGS SKILLS

Article for National Preparedness Month 2018

During hurricane season, the National Preparedness Month campaign reminds us the most important thing to protect in a disaster is your life and the lives of those around you.

National Preparedness Month emphasizes many steps you can take to prepare for storms. Now in its second week, the campaign is focusing on the importance of lifesaving skills like first aid, CPR, fire prevention and utility management.

The 2018 National Day of Action was on Saturday, September 15th. However, it is never too late to learn a lifesaving skill, training others for disaster preparedness or volunteer to help people affected by a catastrophic event.

When a potential disaster approaches your home, you can help keep your loved ones safe by shutting off your gas, water and electricity. Failure to do so can result in fires and explosions, pollution of your water supply and drainage from your home of life-sustaining water.

Different gas meters have different shut-off procedures, so it is important to contact your local gas company for guidance. Never attempt to turn the gas back on yourself; that is a job for a professional. When shutting down your electricity, always shut off all the individual circuits before shutting off the main circuit. For more information on taking care of your utilities, visit www.ready.gov/safety-skills.

Making sure your home has functioning smoke alarms and carbon monoxide detectors on every level, and at least one fire extinguisher, is one of the simplest ways to protect your family. Test your alarms monthly and contact your local fire department for extinguisher training.

To prevent fires from starting, stay in the kitchen when cooking, position barbecue grills at least 10 feet from flammable materials and keep children away from cooking areas. Also immediately replace any worn or damaged appliance cords, and do not run cords under rugs or furniture. For more fire safety tips, go to https://go.usa.gov/xPr24.

If you're in an area that is prone to floods or earthquakes, there are steps you can take to protect your home from their impact. You can learn flood-mitigation techniques at https://go.usa.gov/xPr2C and https://go.usa.gov/xPrZY, and earthquake-protection measures at https://go.usa.gov/xPr2Y.

No matter how well you prepare for disaster, you can't guarantee your loved ones won't get hurt. If someone does get injured, you can increase their chance of survival or full recovery by applying the skills learned in a basic first aid and CPR course. Your local chapter of the American Red Cross can provide information on available courses, as can the Harris County Emergency Corp. The red box below shows other options as well.

For further information on how to prepare for storms and other events, visit the Texas Division of Emergency Management website at https://www.dps.texas.gov/dem.

Since we live in a flood prone area, consider buying tools such as these in order to break your car window. These tools include seat belt cutters as well. This 2-pack sells on Amazon for $8.33, but similar tools can be found at hardware stores, auto part stores, Walmart, etc. (prices vary). You don't need super fancy – a simple little tool such as tucked away in your glove box or console can be a huge help in an emergency.

FEMA HECK YOUR COVERAGE BEFORE DISASTERS STRIKE

Article for National Preparedness Month 2018

Proper insurance can mean the difference between full recovery and financial devastation in natural and other disasters. No one should rely on federal disaster assistance to make them whole after a catastrophic weather event. Federal assistance is only available if the president declares a disaster, and even then, assistance is likely to be provided in the form of a low-interest loan that must be paid back.

To protect yourself and your property, consider purchasing homeowners or renters insurance as well as flood insurance and wind insurance. Each type of insurance covers different things, and they are the only way you can expect to be made whole after a disaster. For more on these insurance types, visit https://go.usa.gov/xQ7px. To purchase a policy, contact your insurance agent, as FEMA does not sell insurance.

Floods are the most common and costly natural disaster in the United States. A single inch of water in an average home can cost more than $26,000 in damage, and floods have struck all 50 states in the past five years.

Homeowners and renters insurance do not cover flood-related damages, but affordable flood insurance is available if your community participates in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). The average flood insurance policy costs range from $500 to $700 annually. After Harvey, more than 91,000 Texans filed flood insurance claims, and NFIP has paid out an estimated $8.8 billion.

Homeowners can acquire up to $350,000 of flood coverage through NFIP, with $250,000 for the building itself and another $100,000 for its contents. Owners of residential properties with five or more units can purchase $500,000 of structural coverage and $100,000 for the structure's contents. Commercial property owners can purchase $500,000 of structural coverage and $500,000 of coverage for contents.

Most tenants do not realize they can carry flood insurance as well. Renters can cover contents up to $100,000, and annual costs are generally lower as renters typically only cover their contents.

Property owners outside of high-risk areas should know 26 percent of all NFIP claims come from areas considered to be at low or moderate risk for floods. In those lower-risk areas, property owners may qualify for a Preferred Risk Policy, which provides the same level of coverage as a standard policy, but at a lower cost.

NFIP insurance is only available in communities that participate in the program and pass floodplain management regulations to reduce the impact of future weather events. Pretty much the entire city of Houston is in an NFIP area, but to confirm you are in an NFIP community, contact your insurance agent.

In Texas, wind and hail insurance is typically only available in 14 communities along the Gulf: Jefferson, Chambers, Galveston, Brazoria, Matagorda, Calhoun, Aransas, San Patricio, Nueces, Kleberg, Kenedy, Williacy and Cameron. If you have homes or businesses in any of these counties, contact your insurance agent to discuss wind insurance or visit Texas Wind Insurance Association at www.twia.org.

VACATION WATCH

WBPOA residents who are current on POA dues can request vacation watches from Constable Precinct 7 for vacation planning needs. You can register for a deputy vacation watch by visiting the Precinct 7 website https://constable7.harriscountytx.gov and select "Vacation Watch". You can also call (713) 643-6118 and request a watch.

See Something, Say Something!

We have a great team of deputies who watch over our neighborhood, but one person cannot watch over 800 homes at once. So let's do our part!! Report criminal offenses to the authorities. The holiday season is a peak time for break ins, robberies, etc., so take note of suspicious activities that occur inside and outside your neighborhood. Always remain cautious of suspicious people and activities. Also, be sure to have the Constable Dispatch the first law enforcement contact for your home alarms. As always, if you see something suspicious, be sure to report it immediately – you do not have to endanger yourself as our patrol officers are quick to respond and will address issues ASAP. If you plan a trip out of town, please get registered with Precinct 7 for a vacation watch – our patrol officers will be happy to help keep an eye on your home.

KOMEN® HOUSTON

In 1990, a group of individuals came together with a common goal: to end breast cancer. Today, Komen Houston continues this mission with the largest group of volunteers in southeast Texas — all sharing a passion for finding the cure. This commitment has evolved into funding several local programs for breast cancer education, awareness, screening and treatment programs, all backed by lifesaving research. With service in Brazoria, Chambers, Fort Bend, Galveston, Harris, Liberty and Montgomery counties, Komen Houston remains devoted to fundraising and grant-making to ensure families battling breast cancer get the treatment and support they need.

WHERE FUNDS GO

75% of funds stay in southeast Texas to aid local services

25% of funds support cutting-edge national research

cases of breast cancer are expected in the southeast Texas area this year, and 586 are not expected to survive.

COMMUNITY PROFILE

Southeast Texas roots and research expertise allow Komen Houston to truly understand the critical impact breast cancer has on the greater Houston area. Even with the largest medical center in the world in our backyard, there s still a lack of access — meaning men and women continue to be diagnosed at later, harder-to-treat stages of breast cancer. By evaluating gaps in service or barriers to care, we hope to not only bridge this gap, but also provide efficient care that exceeds expectations.

) cases of breast cancer are diagnosed

women lose their battle to breast cancer

in the U.S. for mammography screening rates

Highest-ranking state in the nation for uninsured rates

60% higher mortality rate for African-American women in our service area, compared to caucasian women

FUNDED PARTNERS INFO

In 2016, Komen Houston will invest in 17 local nonprofit hospitals, health care clinics and community-based organizations to provide breast cancer screening and diagnostic services, treatment, patient navigation, and end-of-life care services for those battling breast cancer.
