To Whom It May Concern:

As the Vail Academy and High School Principal, I recently had the opportunity to open a brand new school. During the 2009-2010 school year I was given the opportunity to oversee design, construction and purchasing of items that would ultimately become my school. During that time period I had the opportunity to work with Jeff Marton and Coyote School Furnishing. Mr. Marton was extremely helpful and professional in assisting me with making difficult decisions about how to outfit my school.

Mr. Marton was keenly aware of the budgetary issues that schools in Arizona are currently facing and was able to work within my budget. He was able to provide high quality products and a friendly staff that worked hard to meet the deadlines of starting school on JULY 23rd! He was able to do that despite only being allowed access to the building eleven days prior to opening.

I have been very pleased with the relationship between VAHS and Coyote School Furnishings. I would highly recommend that you work with Jeff Marton to help supply your school with all of its needs. Jeff is responsive, hard working, and helpful. These are essential characteristics that you will benefit from when making important decisions about what's best for kids, especially when they will likely be surrounded by those materials for six or seven hours a day.

If I may be of further assistance to Jeff Marton in your selection process please feel free to contact me at 879-1904.

Respectfully,
