

Dear Neighbor ~

Several people in Countryside Villas (aka Countryside Shadows) have joined a private on-line "neighborhood network" website that helps keep residents "in the know." This site can be used to share information about community events, recommendations, items for sale, crime reports, ideas for the community, etc.

It looks like an interesting site, easy to use, with local information. A brief glance shows discussions containing recommendations for landscapers, information about polybutylene piping, pros/cons of solar panels, local yard sales, crime reports, etc.

Countryside Villas (aka Countryside Shadows) is in a 21 day pilot program, trying to get enough residents interested. There are currently 6 people signed up and we need 4 more (total 10) by December 22 to stay viable.

Please take a look at this and consider joining to help us build a better neighborhood. It was a very easy sign up process, no money involved, and you can set your preferences so you don't receive a gazillion emails.

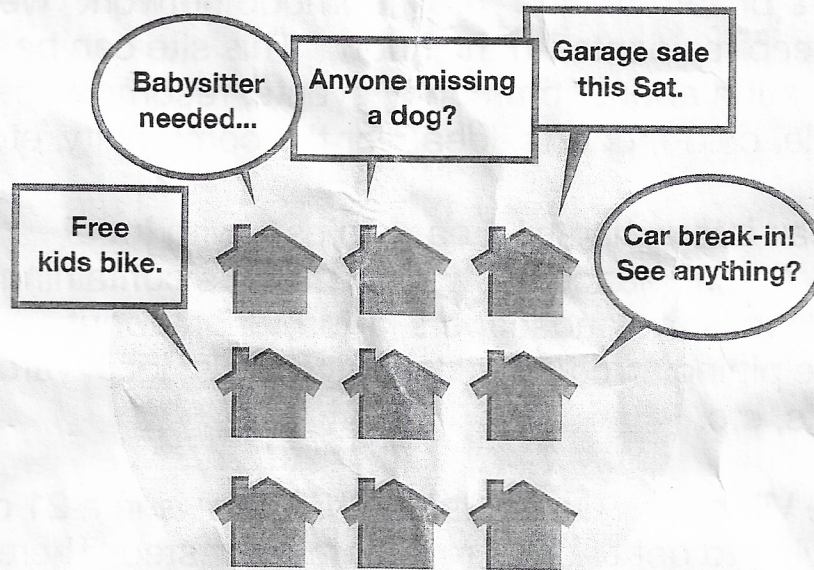

Personally, I feel this is what the Internet is meant for ~ sharing knowledge and information, both locally and globally. You can join by going to www. nextdoor.com/join ~ an invitation code should be on the attached flyer.

Thanks so much! Hope everybody has a wonderful holiday!
