KEEPING MEMORIES

“I have photo albums that have moved with me from space to space. And when the albums find their special place, I know I’m home. Recently, I converted old Polaroids into digital-image CDs and turned negatives from my mother’s old Brownie camera into 35 mm film, all for less than $600. I printed some of the images and then cataloged them in albums from exposuresonline.com. They’re acid-free, archival quality and come in a red leather case that looks just like a box from Cartier.”
