CH BILGAY'S FROZEN DREAMS OF SADI

by Deb Lyons

We are very happy that the chase for the last points is over and now our girl is Ch Bilgay's Frozen Dreams of Sadi. Thanks to Saturday's Judge Judith Brown for giving Sadi Winners Bitch. A big Thank You to Del Richards for giving Sadi Winners Bitch on Sunday and finishing her championship.

Also Sadi and her big brother BOTH earned their Championships on the same day, so he is Ch Bilgay's Frozen Asset, aka Bond. The two of them got to say hello to each other at ABTC Nationals in Florida last month. The picture of Bond below is from last year's national.

ABTC/LSBTC SUPPORTED SHOW REPORT--JULY 7, 2019

by Tiffany Holley

The Dallas Supported Entry show is quickly approaching and we are very excited. We have had some wonderful gifts donated for the exhibitor bags which I am sure you will all enjoy. We are also planning a couple of events that I hope you will all enjoy. First, Carol Lautzenheiser has contacted me and had the fantastic idea of a Tervuren grooming area. She would like to get a large reserved grooming spot, the size the handlers use, and all of the Tervs groom together. Snacks and drinks will be provided as a token of gratitude for coming to our show. Carol has said she will take the lead on this and if you would like to take part in this set up please contact her via cell at 817-845-1145, email at machud@sbcglobal.net, or Facebook Messenger.

Second, I have been told there is a restaurant called Rodeo Goat located at 1926 Market Center Blvd., (at Turtle Creek), Dallas, Texas 75207 ph. 214-741-4628. I have been told this is a must go

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

by Devota Swenson

President, Lone Star Belgian Tervuren Club

It was a great April with a few of our members traveling to Weirsdale, Florida for the Belgian Tervuren National. Alo and I spent a week in Florida and stopped and had some adventures along the way. We left for the trip and made it as far as the Gulf Coast of Mississippi where we stopped in at Gulfport for the evening and took a nice walk on the beach in the morning. Back in the car and off we went to horse country Florida.

The facility was beautiful, with a large covered arena and packed dirt floors. I helped with agility one day and set bars. It was my first time doing that and it was a whole lot of fun watching the dogs.

Alo and I snuck a day in dock diving at the local NADD facility that was about a half hour away. The veterans and puppies are always my favorite to watch and this year did not disappoint. The experience of a national is something I would recommend to everyone: to meet the breed, to see the different lines and to learn from people that have been in the breed for years. I have learned so much by just their sharing of knowledge.

The Supported entry show is coming up quickly; don't forget to enter at Onofrio; ours will be on Sunday. There is dinner planned for Saturday night off site. Let Tiffany Holley know if you would like to join us.

One item of business to mention, there will be a judges' education at the Houston World of Dogs Show for the Tervuren in July. I am waiting to find out what day and time and I will be asking some of you to bring dogs down to showcase our breed for hands on for a few hours. Houston has some great shopping opportunities; the vendors are in from all over the country so bring your credit card.

CHANGES IN THE AKC SCENT WORK PROGRAM

By Pat Thomas

After my girl Becca retired from agility, we tried both rally and nosework. Becca was a natural at nosework (whereas neither of us was a natural at rally ha ha). I believe that nosework is a great way to strengthen teamwork with your dog and can even help dogs with environmental sensitivities (like Becca had). We're seeing more trials in Texas and Oklahoma hosted by several organizations including NASCW (National Association of Canine Scent Work), UKC, and AKC. An AKC Scent Work trial was offered in association with the ABTC National in 2018 for the first time and I hope that's a trend.

The AKC Scent Work program includes handler discrimination (finding the owner's scent) and the following elements: containers, buried hides, exteriors, and interiors. Competitors may elect to enter any or all of the events offered at a trial. Many competitors in AKC's Scent Work program had concerns about the higher levels of the buried element where dogs were required to find target odor buried in the ground. The AKC heard those concerns and changes have been approved. Beginning in October, all buried hides will be in a container with play sand or water. The addition of creative distractors will increase the difficulty at the higher levels. Distractors may be food (in a container), toys, auditory stimuli, a person in the search area, and others. You can learn more about the AKC Scent Work program on the AKC website:
