REVISION PROCESS

The revision process is only applicable to our design packages. Hourly services will be charged per hour, with no limit of revision hours.

Design Presentation

Within 1-2 weeks of receiving your signed contract and payment, anticipate the arrival of your comprehensive design presentation. Your input is crucial in this collaborative process, so please share any feedback openly. Design is a joint endeavor, and transparency is key. The presentation contains quite a bit of information, so we encourage you to take the necessary time for thorough consideration. The more information you can share with us at this point the more you will LOVE your finished product!

Revision #1

Once we receive your list of revisions it takes about 1 week to make the necessary changes. You will be allowed 1 more set of revisions at this point. It is important to be clear with your changes. For example saying "I don't like the sofa" does not provide us with much information. Saying something like "I don't like the arm shape of the sofa, I prefer something with a straighter arm style." is much more helpful for us to make the proper changes.

Final Designs

After your second set of revisions your project is considered completed. Should you need more revisions there will be an additional charge of $50 per revision set. A revision set can include multiple items; for example you could ask for another sofa and drapery option and that would count as one revision.
