ABOUT AMERICAN BBQ

Barbecue is never served piping hot. The meat is smoked overnight and then held at 170F until it reaches your plate. Anything hotter would overcook the meat.

This is not fast food. We smoke our meats low and slow, so there may be times when (sadly) we're sold out of your favourites.

Smoking meat causes the outer layer of the meat to turn pink, often referred to as a smoke ring. Do not fear while eating – it's the sign of a perfect smoking process.
