

Derivatives Industry Veteran Launches Her Own Firm — Joyce Xu Law LLC

NEW YORK, March 15, 2023 (NewsWire.com) - Joyce Xu Law LLC, a boutique firm founded by Joyce Sophia Xu, a 23-year veteran derivatives lawyer and former BigLaw partner, formally launched today.

Xu founded JXLaw with one clear goal in mind — to build an exceptional legal services firm dedicated to advising and guiding clients in navigating the complex world of derivatives.

To its clients, JXLaw provides transactional services ranging from structuring to documentation to execution of derivatives and related transactions and platforms. JXLaw also provides clients with in-depth regulatory advice, current market intelligence and strategic guidance to support their derivatives, finance, treasury, risk management, private wealth management, prime brokerage, investment management and asset management businesses and functions.

To its lawyers and support staff, JXLaw provides a platform to engage in highly sophisticated and gratifying legal work and a supportive and nurturing environment that offers the freedom of remote working and flexible hours.

Xu is a trailblazer in her field, having started her legal career at Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP in 2000 and subsequently founded and ran global derivatives practices at Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP and Paul Hastings LLP. Xu says of her new venture: "At JXLaw, we are deeply committed to building a home for happy clients and happy lawyers. We are living through a time of rapid technological, economic, environmental and geopolitical changes that are creating new uncertainties and challenges for derivatives market participants. We help our clients navigate and thrive in today's environment through rigorous and thoughtful legal representation rooted in integrity, clarity and deep expertise. JXLaw is here to support and safeguard the growth and success of our clients and team members."

JXLaw is a boutique New York law firm specializing in derivatives transactions linked to equities, interest rates, currencies, commodities and cryptocurrencies, and related securities and commodities laws and regulations.

Source: Joyce Xu Law LLC

About Joyce Xu Law LLC

A home for happy clients and happy lawyers, founded by Joyce Sophia Xu, a derivatives industry and BigLaw veteran.

<http://www.JoyceXuLaw.com>

Company Address

Joyce Xu Law LLC

2 Park Avenue (20th Floor)

New York, NY 10016

United States

Original Source: www.newswire.com