

Joint Announcement from:

To our Valued Customers,

Nucor Towers & Structures (NTS), a subsidiary of Nucor, and KW Associates are excited to jointly announce a working partnership in the electric utility industry. KW Associates will serve as a manufacturer sales representative for NTS across the KW Associates territory. Our partnership combines KW Associates electric utility industry experience, technical knowledge and customer network with Nucor's extensive steel and steel products resources and commitment to investing in the advancement of American utility infrastructure.

Nucor is North America's largest and most sustainable steel and steel products company with a relentless focus on safety. Nucor's decision to enter the utility infrastructure industry supports the overall strategy of Expand Beyond and further positions Nucor as a leading manufacturer in the metals industry.

Along with the Hazleton, Pennsylvania location, coming in 2025, NTS is introducing the most advanced and automated manufacturing facilities in the industry at our Decatur, Alabama and Crawfordsville, Indiana locations. We will continue to update the market as NTS executes its aggressive growth strategy.

We will be in touch soon to coordinate a joint call, sharing more on our products, services and business strategy.

In the meantime, please reach out to our team if you have any questions.

Respectfully,

Keith Ward
KW Associates
