Retirement SALE

We want to thank everyone for their trust and loyalty to Prairie Hills Ford since 2001. We have enjoyed meeting so many great people in this community. We thank you for the support and patronage for over 20 years. We truly valued your choice in Prairie Hills Ford as your FORD dealership for sales and service. The parts department is liquidating the Ford and MotorCraft parts, bulk oils and DEF fluids, during the month of April and into May at location. Please call with inquiries into sale pricing of in-stock parts, tools, workshop manuals and other shop tools and equipment.

The location will continue to operate as an independent used vehicle dealership, and we appreciate the continued support of this enterprise.

Again, thank you for choosing Prairie Hills Ford and please stop in and visit our used vehicle line-up and discuss with our sales department locating the vehicle you are looking for.

Happy MOTHER'S DAY

5 FUN WAYS TO SPEND MOTHER'S DAY WITH MOM

1. Begin Mom's day with breakfast in bed. If Mom is the first one to reach the kitchen each morning throughout the year, then breakfast in bed can make for a great way to start her Mother's Day. Dads and kids can wake up early and sneak downstairs while Mom is still sleeping and surprise her with a homemade breakfast and hot cup of coffee before she gets out of bed.

2. Indulge in a little adventure. If Mom isn't one to relax or spend an extra hour in bed, then indulge her sense of adventure this Mother's Day. Visit a local adventure course where Mom can zip line the day away and challenge herself on a variety of obstacle courses. These outdoor settings can make great use of the mild weather of mid-May and still afford Mom ample time to satisfy her craving for adventure and physical activity.

3. Take Mom out to the ballgame. Baseball season is in full swing come Mother's Day, and Major League Baseball and its minor league affiliates recognize that many moms are big fans of America's pastime. Special promotions, Mom-themed giveaways and on-site entertainment and activities are part of the Mother's Day experience at many baseball stadiums. A day at an MLB stadium or local minor league ballpark can be an ideal activity for the Mom who loves baseball.

4. Take to the sea. Whether it's a lake, a nearby river or the ocean, few backdrops are as dramatic as ones featuring water. A Mother's Day brunch cruise can make for an idyllic setting as the family sits down under the mid-May sun to celebrate Mom with a good meal and gorgeous views.

5. Take a food tour. If Mom is a certified foodie, then there's no better way to celebrate her than taking a food tour of local restaurants. Mother's Day tends to be a busy day in the restaurant business, so a food tour might be best organized on the Saturday before Mom's big day, particularly in smaller communities. Many cities or vacation hotspots offer food tours on Mother's Day, so this might be a Sunday option for families that live in or near such locales.

There's no end to the ways families can celebrate Mom this Mother's Day. Families are urged to find a fun and unique way to make Mom's special day one to remember this year.

This year Mother's Day is celebrated on Sunday, May 12. As the day draws closer, families can consider these five fun ways to spend the day with Mom.

Diploma display ideas

Graduation day is one of the proudest moments in students' academic careers. Diplomas are symbolic of hours spent honing skills and working on assignments and, ultimately, success in the classroom. High school diplomas represent an opportunity to go on to higher learning or a trade, while college degrees indicate young people are ready to begin their professional lives.

medal or other award, a varsity jacket patch, or a program from a school performance or awards ceremony can be placed in the shadow box.

Create a photo wall

Display the diploma among other framed photos from school activities. This can elicit a trip down memory lane every time the wall is viewed. Some families may want to display their diplomas together, especially if multiple family members attended the same school.

Make a work of art

Various online art vendors can turn the diploma into different works of art. For example, engravers can laser engrave the diploma onto a wooden plaque. Then the diploma can be displayed in one location and the wood plaque in another.

Place it under glass

Display the diploma beneath the glass top of a coffee table. When entertaining guests, the diploma can make for a unique conversation piece.

A school diploma is worthy of recognition. There are various creative ways to display these documents that reflect the hard work and success of their recipients.

Many graduates are excited about the prospect of receiving their diplomas. Once in hand, the document can be put on display. The following are some unique ways to showcase diplomas at home or at work.

Framing

One of the classic ways to display a diploma is in a frame. Many businesses offer customized framing where the frame material and the matting can be chosen. Some grads may want to include a photograph of the school or a picture of the graduate above the diploma. Graduates also may want to select a frame and mat that coordinates with school colors.

Create a shadow box

Consider displaying the diploma with other mementos from school. A shadow box is a large, deep display frame that can house items that are thicker than photographs or papers. Items such as a graduation tassel, Congratulations & best wishes!

Yearbooks are important mementos

Reaching senior year of high school or college is something to celebrate. It means that graduation is on the horizon and another chapter in students' lives will soon come to a close, with a new one likely to begin shortly thereafter.

Seniors, particularly high school seniors, may find that their last year of school is, among many other things, expensive. In addition to college application fees, test prep courses, graduation garb, parties, photographs, and much more, students often weigh the option of purchasing a yearbook and wonder if it's necessary. The yearbook experts at YearbookLife.com say the average cost of a yearbook is around $75 nationwide. Even though yearbooks may be somewhat costly, they can be valuable mementos of time spent in school. Here are various reasons why yearbooks make for important, cherished mementos.

- A yearbook will serve as a time capsule for trends, interests and newsworthy events that unfolded during students' time in school.

- Yearbooks promote a sense of school pride and unity. Families that will have multiple generations attending the same school may share the unity of being apart of one school and can compare yearbooks from various years.

- Sections of the yearbook are devoted to student accomplishments and can herald happy, productive days.

- Yearbooks promote social interaction, not only when students become part of yearbook production committees, but also when asking classmates to sign their yearbooks.

- In the future, yearbooks will present a way to remember old friends' names and can facilitate reconnecting through social media or another avenue.

- Reunion committees may use yearbooks as a way to draft reunion party guest lists.

- In an era of digital photos and other online media, yearbooks are tangible items that can be easily accessed from time to time.

- Yearbooks, in addition to diplomas, are symbols of academic achievement.

Students wondering whether to be involved with yearbook design or to purchase a book should consider the many benefits yearbooks offer.

Gift ideas for high school graduates

The class of 2024 soon will be donning their caps and gowns and receiving their diplomas. After commencement ceremonies, graduation parties will soon follow. For party guests, that means finding the right gifts for grads.

Some high school graduates will continue their studies at colleges and universities. Others may pursue careers in various trades. Still, some graduates may be ready to enter the workforce right away. No matter the direction, these gifts can treat graduates to something special.

Travel accessories

Graduates may want to go on a trip before they take the next step in their lives. Quality travel gear is a worthy investment. Select luggage that won't exceed airport carry-on limits so grads can cut the baggage check lines when they dart away to locales near or far. Carry-on bags also fit easily in bus cargo areas or in the trunks of cars.

Pair the gifts with standard or digital luggage tags.

Streaming TV device

While it's certainly possible to watch favorite shows or films on mobile devices, viewing is that much clearer on televisions. Rather than graduates having to invest in cable television wherever they go, streaming devices like AppleTV or Roku are portable, which means they can be used at home, in a dorm room or on vacation.

Secured credit card

Individuals typically are eligible to apply for credit cards once they reach age 18, which is the age most students are when they graduate high school. Credit cards are one method of establishing solid credit, so it can be beneficial for a teen to have one. But it can be challenging for individuals with no credit histories to get approval. A secured card, according to CapitalOne, is a credit card that requires money deposited with the credit card issuer in order to open the account. This security deposit is held by the issuer as long as the account is open. Often the security deposit is the same as the credit limit. Gift-givers can help establish secured cards for grads by providing the funds for the security deposits.

Wireless earbuds or headphones

Upgrade grads' audio with the newest wireless earbuds or headphones. This way they can take them to the gym or use them to listen to shows or music while sharing spaces with others, including college roommates.

Smartphone wallet case

Teenagers are seldom without their phones. A smartphone wallet case enables graduates to stash IDs, credit or debit cards and some cash into specially designed pockets built into the phone cases. This keeps all essentials in one spot.

Framed memorabilia

Whether a graduate was a star athlete or a premier member of the marching band, gift-givers can provide special memories of time spent in school. Frame ticket stubs, sports jerseys, show programs, or other memorabilia that commemorates a graduate's glory days at their alma mater.

Congratulations Graduates!

Strategies to ease the burden of student loan debt

Student loan debt in the United States is growing. As student loan debt has risen, managing that debt has become an important component of financial planning. Individuals with student loan debt can look into various strategies to help ease their debt burdens.

that the interest rates on loans that have not been consolidated almost certainly vary. Learn the interest rates on your loans and make a concerted effort to pay extra principle each month on the loans with the higher interest rates. Doing so can save borrowers a lot of money over time and get them that much closer to eradicating their student loan debt.

Consolidate loans. Consolidation is often viewed through the lens of simplifying loan repayment by combining all loans into one so borrowers with multiple loans only need to make a single payment each month. That impression is correct, but there's more to consolidation than simplifying repayment. The experts at Credit.com note that consolidation typically allows borrowers to change their repayment terms. Longer repayment terms will increase the amount of interest borrowers pay over the life of the loans. But longer repayment terms also allow borrowers to pay less each month, which can free up money to pay bills and build savings for large purchases, including a home.

Student loan debt is a significant burden for millions of individuals. Finding ways to ease that burden can help borrowers secure their financial futures.

Know your loans. Many borrowers signed their student loan documents when they were 18, while others might have signed when they were 22 or 23 and about to enter graduate school. It's easy for young borrowers to overlook important details like interest rates, but individuals who have multiple loans must recognize
