

MINISTRIES

In the last few words recorded in the Book of Revelation, Jesus says, "Behold, I am coming soon!" This phrase is one I want to challenge you to consider. At some point all of us heard a preacher or leader ask us the question, "If you were to die today, would you spend eternity in heaven?" As serious as this question is, I would like to ask you another question of equal importance. If Jesus were to return today, are you ready? Regardless of your position on end times and the doctrine of eschatology, there is a day coming when Jesus will return. He will come, and everything on this earth as we know it will change. The presence of the Son of God after the cross and resurrection will impact the world in a very different way. The time for responding to the Gospel is before that day arrives, and that day is closer now than ever before. First, you need to ensure you are ready. You need to know that you have responded to Jesus' invitation, turned from your sin, and received the gift of salvation. I trust most of you reading this have settled the eternal issues for yourself.

The question now is what are you doing to help others settle that critical question in their own lives? If we believe the words of Jesus and know that He is coming soon, then it is critically important for us to share that news with as many people as possible. Think of it this way...You and I have crossed the road and are looking back at family, friends, co-workers, neighbors, etc. They are searching for the pathway across the road, and we see the safe pathway. The trucks are coming and all of those crossing the road are in danger, yet we know the path for safe passage. Do we begin to share the way with passion to help them find the safe passage? Or do we look back across the road and hope they find it themselves? The truth of the Gospel is shared by people. The plan that the Lord instituted at Pentecost is that men will share with others the truth of the Gospel, and many will hear and believe. You and I are those voices that the Lord has placed in peoples' lives to speak truth and share the Gospel. How are you doing in that area? Are you speaking up and out with truth and hope? Are you seeking to share and show the Gospel to all who are in your sphere of influence? Are you ready for the Lord to return or do you want to ask for a little more time to reach more people with this amazing truth?

Two thousand twenty-two is a year of HOPE! After two years of the pandemic and tough days, we find ourselves on the edge of a new year and a new day. The issues with Covid are still with us. We have some hope of overcoming the days of the pandemic and trusting the solutions to open doors to GO once again. The world is still in great need of the Gospel to be shared both in the "unreached" areas of the world and the "reached" areas. Many places remain untouched by the Gospel message around the world. We, as the church, must remain vigilant in getting the Gospel into these places. At the same time many places that have been touched by the Gospel remain unreached by the Gospel because the efforts to share and teach have been slowed or abandoned. In most contexts it takes many touches by the Gospel to reach a culture or people group. Yet, the Lord is reaching people all over the globe!

One Way Ministries remains committed to proclaiming the Gospel among the impoverished, desperate and forgotten people groups around the world. Right here in our own hemisphere, we see a large number of indigenous people groups who are impoverished, desperate, and forgotten. They have been treated this way by governments, social orders, and even the church. From the Navajo in North America (continued on back) to the Mayan people of Central America to the remnant of the Inca in South America, the indigenous people of our hemisphere remain largely unreached even though they have access to the Gospel. This people group can impact the world with the Gospel if you and I will remain committed to reaching our backyard!

Join us in 2022 as we once again follow Jesus into the communities and villages of our indigenous neighbors to speak boldly the truth of His Gospel. Together we can share and show the Gospel message and help our brothers and sisters find their way to the Savior! The Lord has blessed us so much. He has poured out His grace on us. His face is smiling upon us. It is now our opportunity to take the blessings He has given us and use those resources to make His ways known, to make His salvation known among all nations! Join us as we reach the world and Teach His word!

Turner Family Update

On the home front, we have made it through another year of the pandemic, and we are so grateful for the Lord's provisions! This year, JT and I have taken on extra work to sustain the family. While it has been trying, we have definitely seen the Lord's faithfulness through it all.

Kaitlyn continues to work at a local children's online store where she handles customer service. She desires to go to graduate school soon and is working towards that! Madison moved to Washington, DC, this year and is working on her master's in public health from George Washington University. We are enjoying having her back in Alabama for a few weeks during the holiday season.

Jett is a senior in high school (see that handsome photo), and he has applied to six colleges. He's already been accepted at two, and we are eager to see where God is going to send him! Zeke is a freshman in high school and still enjoys football. He endures school (begrudgingly) but is a great student! Elly is also a freshman and enjoys singing, dancing, playing soccer, and most importantly, reading. Her room is officially a library with a bed in it, and books made up 90% of her Christmas wish list.

We love you all and cherish your continued prayers and encouragement!
