

Harwich 27 Sept 1815

Arrived here this day at 10 o'clock at the Three Cups, kept by Mr Bull breakfasted. then went to the Packet office. and presented our passports when we obtained tickets on paying £2..14..6 for our passage to Helvoetsluys & with these tickets went along with our Luggage to the Customhouse where it was examined and passsed and from thence conveyed on board. We afterwards dined and embarked on board the Henry Freeling packet Capt Mason — about 4 o'clock set sail sail for Holland on the coast of which we arrived early next morning, but owing to contrary wind, we did not reach Helveatsluip till 9 o'clock P.M.

Slept on board that night and next morning about seven, went on shore paying one guilder for our passage to the harbour, off which our packet was then lying — Arrived at the arms of Hanover, breakfasted there in company with most of the passengers, for which we paid 12 Stivers each equal to 1/2 then hired two covered coaches called waggons and one open carriage which goes by the same name, for our luggage. In the three carriages we set out 9 o'clock for the Brill a town about five or 6 miles from Helveatsluip - a pretty large place and as well as the former remarkably neat & clean the pavement opposite the doors and even the streets clean washed.

From the Brill we set out in a coach and one waggon from Marshuis, Haards, and through Schindam and so on to Rotterdam where we arrived at the Bath Hotel, Bomfies about 4 o'clock
